

Packages

If you are purchasing a session package, you have 90 days from your package purchase date to schedule and attend the sessions included in your package. If you schedule and attend all of your sessions and you wish to attend additional sessions during that 90 day period, you're welcome to purchase any additional packages or offers that align with your needs. To get the most out of your package, be sure to schedule and attend all the sessions included in your package before the 90-day expiration date, as all remaining sessions will be void at that time.

Payment Options

If you're purchasing a payment option for your preferred consulting offer, review the terms associated with that offer, then check the box when prompted during the purchase process to confirm you agree to the terms outlined in the document associated with the offer for which you're purchasing the payment option.
