

A Woman Who Fears The LORD . . .

(A Study on Proverbs 31)

Willingly Works with Her Hands

INTRODUCTION

A virtuous¹ woman willingly works with her hands. How many women do you know who have truly committed themselves to meeting the physical as well as the spiritual needs of their own families and others? Jesus, the Son of Man² is the greatest example of one who offered His loving hands to be a servant. As a child He skillfully handled the Scriptures. When He was a young man He lovingly served His parents as a carpenter. As the Servant of all He fed the multitudes, tenderly held and blessed the children, and humbly washed the feet of His disciples. Ultimately, He let His enemies pierce His caring hands and nail them to the cross of Calvary³ that all mankind might receive forgiveness for their sins. Jesus said to His disciples . . . I AM among you as One who serves (Luke 22:27).
