

To our parents of special needs

We recruit and hire some of the best college students from all over the nation to work with our campers, and each year they do a fantastic job. However our staff are not equipped to respond to unique situations that can arise with children with special needs in the behavioral or emotional domains, such as Oppositional Defiance Disorder, Autism Spectrum Disorder, Conduct Disorder, etc. So we invite you to call out office at 757-421-4177 to discuss the individual needs of your child and the possibility of Triple R being able to accommodate your specific needs in our summer camp program. Thank you for considering Triple R as a summer camp option. We look forward to discussing with you the appropriateness of Triple R as a summer camp experience for your child and if together we determine it to be a good fit – making it a very special summer for them!
