Standing Committee

Members of the Standing Committee for 2023 were Rev. Tim Baer, Grace Church, Yukon; Rev. Tom Dahlman, Emmanuel, Shawnee, Rev. Stephanie Jenkins, St. Andrew's, Lawton, Marian Moon (president), St. Augustine of Canterbury, Oklahoma City; Susan Urbach, St. Paul's, Oklahoma City; and Bill Young, St. Dunstan's, Tulsa. The Standing Committee met a total of seven times since the last Diocesan convention in October 2022.

The main activities at the six regularly scheduled Standing Committee meetings included voting on requests for consent for the election of bishops in various diocese and considering and voting for or recommending approval for various diocesan business matters. In addition, the Standing Committee acted in an informal consultative capacity in matters raised for discussion by Bishop Poulson. The Standing Committee also conducted electronic Zoom interviews with two applicants seeking Candidacy for Holy Orders and advised the Bishop of our recommendations for these individuals. We also reviewed final documentation and discussed the applications for six people seeking ordination and made recommendations to the Bishop for each of those applicants.

On behalf of the Standing Committee I would like to thank Bishop Poulson Reed, Canon Eric Cooter and Canon Betsy Randall for their thoughtful and collaborative approach to our ministry together. A special word of appreciation also goes to the wonderful diocesan staff for their skills and invaluable support in the management of the business of the diocese. It is a privilege and joy to work together with these people in service to the Episcopal Diocese of Oklahoma.

Faithfully,
Marian J. Moon
Standing Committee President

Episcopal Diocese of Oklahoma Archive

The Diocese of Oklahoma Archive is a repository of historical papers reflecting the longevity and vitality of the Episcopal church in Oklahoma. The collection honors the life, work, and faith of parishioners from 1893 to the present day. The objective is to cultivate a connection between a congregation's faith history to the present day. Collecting historical papers and images, preserving those materials, and providing open access is the backbone of creating a strong historical bond within the diocese. The duties are varied but connecting churches, congregants, researchers, and staff is integral to promoting and telling the history. Each day is filled with opportunities to reveal more Oklahoma Episcopal history through large and small projects. Summarized below are some of the archive's 2023 highlights and accomplishments.

The Oklahoma Heritage Preservation Grant Program sponsored by the Oklahoma Historical Society, granted monies to upload images to The Gateway of Oklahoma web site. The site publicizes Oklahoma's Episcopal history and celebrates the work of ancestral church members throughout the decades. This was a major six-month project consisting of over three hundred images with planned forthcoming images in the ensuing years.

This year, many churches were celebrating milestone anniversaries and contacted the archive for images and historical materials. Do not hesitate to contact the archive if you need images, papers, or answers to history questions, since it is part of the archive's pledge to promote and disseminate our history.

Assisting congregational archivists in 2023 has been a pleasure. Emmanuel Episcopal Church of Shawnee has been organizing their archive for a couple of years while All Souls Episcopal Church of Oklahoma City has begun tackling the task of archival organization. Assistance in the form of storage, preservation or digitization recommendations is always available to any church or person in the diocese. While I may not be on-site, I look forward to talking or visiting with your church members interested in archival management.

Another large research project completed this year detailed the lives of fifteen Episcopal Black priests who served in the Oklahoma District of the Twin Territories and Diocese of Oklahoma from 1909 to 1955. Their short biographical sketches record their time in Oklahoma and their priesthood.

Responding to staff and public inquiries is an ongoing duty of the holder of records. Sometimes the inquiries require extensive research, but at other times, they are quickly resolved. If anyone has a question, I am here to assist in answering.

A project in its infancy is an oral history archive program. This is planned to be an ongoing opportunity to collect historical diocesan, church, and personal history information. If a church has a particular person in mind to participate, please reach out so we can create a plan for recording. This year Reverend William "Bill" Powell, the longest serving priest in the diocese and wealth of diocesan history, was the first program participant.

Additionally, uploading administrative records into the office electronic content management system is a priority and is not to be overshadowed by other projects or duties. All the work within the archive is meant to safeguard the history of the diocese, churches, and parishioners for future exploration.

The archive is here to cultivate your curiosity and knowledge of Episcopal history in Oklahoma. Feel free to reach out.

Commission on Ministry

2023 Annual report

The members of the Commission on Ministry (COM) are tasked with applying Bishop Poulson's vision for the growth of lay and ordained ministry in the Diocese of Oklahoma. With Canon Betsy's help, the COM continues to focus on parish discernment as part of the process for ordained ministry while prayerfully considering more robust discernment for lay ministry opportunities in the diocese. The Diocese of Oklahoma has many people discerning a call to vocational ministry. Some events or initiatives of note include:

- The Iona School of Formation: This vital program is meant to help train people for work in the Church as vocational deacons and bi-vocational priests. Meeting during the academic year, classes are held monthly. Steve Orwig, who served faithfully as the Academic Dean of the Iona School for the last 10 years, retired in June and the Rev. Dion Crider shall resume the role as his successor.
- Parish Discernment Committees: The PDC is a parish-led committee that works with a liaison from the COM to help individuals prayerfully discern possible calls to ordained ministry. PDC's are encouraged to help these individuals ask important questions about their understanding of faithful ministry as they begin the larger process for ordination. The PDC makes a recommendation to the Vestry/Bishop's Committee regarding Nomination for Holy Orders.
- BACM: The BACM (Bishop's Advisory Council on Ministry) Weekend, an event in March/April of each year at which, the COM and the Bishop meet with aspirants who have successfully completed the Aspirancy program. The goal of the weekend is for the Bishop, COM, and aspirants to discern together, and whether the COM recommends each aspirant for Postulancy and further formation and discernment.
- Canonical Actions by the COM:
 - Postulancy Recommendations: 7
 - Candidacy Recommendations: 2
 - Permanent Diaconate Ordinations: 4
 - Priesthood Ordinations: 7

Current Commission on Ministry Members include:

The Rev. Joseph Alsay (St. Augustine's, OKC), Sherry Baker (Lay-St. Matthew's Sand Springs), The Rev. Lisa Chronister (St. John's, OKC), The Very Rev. Katie Churchwell (St. Paul's Cathedral, OKC), Ann Friedl (Lay-St. Andrew's Lawton), Angela Hock-Brewer (Lay-St. Dunstan's, Tulsa), Kristen Lees (Lay-Christ Church, Tulsa), The Rev. Suzanne Mollison (St. Paul's, Altus), Peggy Saunkeah (Lay-St. Luke's Ada), Audrey Stone (Grace, Muskogee), The Rev. Robby Trammell (St. James, OKC), The Rev. Deacon James Tyree (St. John's, Norman), The Rev. Chris Yoder (All Souls', OKC), The Rev. Tim Sean Youmans (St. Paul's Cathedral, OKC).

Fr. David Bumsted, Chair

Formation Department

2022-2023 was a year of planning and thinking about how formation can seek to form discipleships for the purpose of supporting congregational vitality. Our summer camp, New Beginnings program, and re-imagined high school retreat were all successes (see the Report from Teresa Phares, Coordinator of Children and Youth Formation and Summer Camp Director for more information). It is a joy working with Teresa every day and I'm thankful for her ministry, expertise in children's/youth formation, and wise counsel within the diocese.

As part of my work I oversee the Schools of Ministry, including the Iona School of Formation and the School of Spiritual Direction, both of which continue to thrive. We hired the Rev. Dion Crider to fill the position of Dean of the Iona School of Formation, taking over from long-time Dean, Dr. Steve Orwig. We celebrated Steve's ministry with the diocese in June alongside our Iona graduates. Our School of Spiritual Direction graduated its first cohort in January and the second cohort begins this month. Over 35 people participated in our second Retreat in Daily Life program and we expect over 30 to participate again this coming year. For more information on the Iona School of Formation and the School of Spiritual Direction, see the reports from the Dean Dion Crider and Dean Susan Joplin below.

Within the diocese we offered an Enneagram Retreat in November of 2022. Working with the Canon for Congregational Vitality, we also began a Faithful Innovation (FIN) cohort and a Missional Leadership Cohort, and are getting ready to launch the second FIN cohort in October. The Formation Office has also spent much of 2023 working to update our Safe Church processes and training administrators across the diocese. While there is still work to be done, and the new Safe Church requirements place a relatively large burden on congregations, the Formation Office is doing its best to train, seek a means to offer in-person training, and provide resources for congregations and administrators to make the burden lighter.

Finally, in 2023 Canon Steve and I spent much of May to August working on developing a white paper on Congregational Vitality. This is the culmination of two years of research work in the diocese utilizing our Congregational Vitality Assessment data. The importance of this work has resulted in clarity around the practices, needs, and a focus for formational work going forward. In particular we are moving forward, along with support from the Commission on Ministry, in developing lay licensure programs and will be developing practices and resources to support the formation of disciples, evangelism, spiritual practices, prayer, and connecting with our communities. In addition, we are beginning to think about what diocesan offerings look like to resource all of our congregations across the state from Guymon to Hugo, Miami to Altus, including models of formation offerings in a hybrid fashion.

I am looking forward to what the formation office will be offering in 2024 as we begin bearing the fruits of research and intentional thought.

Respectfully submitted,

Kate Bond

From Teresa Phares, Children & Youth Coordinator, Summer Camp Director:

My love for our summer camp program just continues to grow, when I didn't even think that was possible! The 2023 season was a successful one!

Thank you to this year's teams, which included many new deans and medical volunteers, and a huge number of CITs! I continue to be amazed at the ways that so many people in our diocese want to serve at camp and be connected with our camp community. Our large and passionate camp community is one of the things that makes our camp so special.

The theme for camp was the same as the 2022 Convention Theme: "Like Trees Planted by Streams of Water". This year, I realized how much fruit our camp program produces, just like those strong trees planted by streams of water. Here are some highlights from our time together at camp this year:

- The deans shined this year, and worked so well with the camp staff! They brought amazing programs that helped the campers go deeper into their spiritual journeys and connect more with God, themselves, and each other. We had so much fun with them.
- We were able to debut our new Craft Cabin, which was a huge hit! Art and Crafts was often the first activity that filled up, and we were able to offer some more in-depth projects in our new dedicated and air-conditioned space. Thank you St. Crispin's Conference Center for allowing us the use of old Cabin 2!
- We had the largest class of CITs ever - with 30 who trained and served this summer. I take the role of leadership development in the camp program seriously, and I believe that we are developing some very strong leaders and future camp staffers through this program.
- During Senior High Camp, some camp alumni came to visit and share some of their personal spiritual stories with the campers. Thank you Holly Brooks, Megan Shepherd, Jeff Huston, Mitchell Bibelheimer, and Susanna LeMasters for coming out and connecting with the campers! I am discerning more ways to continue to connect our alumni with our camp community.
- The full-time staff really showed growth and leadership this summer, in so many ways! I was particularly impressed with their focus on incorporating more formation and spiritual practices into the everyday routine at camp (such as making closing circle more prayerful and leading Daily Examen at popsicle talks), their problem-solving strategies, the ways they prioritized the camper experience, and how they mentored the CITs.
- Did you know that almost every full-time camp counselor is also certified as either a lifeguard or a ropes facilitator (or both!)? They always place safety as the highest priority at camp. I am so appreciative of the extra training and work they put in so that we can offer water and ropes activities safely at summer camp.
- We had significant growth in Senior High this year (over 10%), and a significant increase in male campers.

Oklahoma Iona School of Formation

In June, we bid farewell to Dr. Steve Orwig who has served as Dean of the program since its second year in Oklahoma. Under Dr. Orwig's leadership, thirty-six people have graduated from Iona, almost all of whom are actively serving in the Diocese. In April, the Rev. Dion Crider was announced as Dr. Orwig's successor as Dean of Iona.

September began the 2023-2024 academic year, the twelfth, of our program. Iona provides a three year program of education, practical ministry application, and spiritual formation for postulants to the diaconate and bi-vocational priesthood. Students meet one weekend each month from September through June at St. Crispin's.

In June, eight students graduated: Willie Font (priest), Nancy Gill (priest), Jaron Hill (deacon), Dana Orwig (priest), Beverly Rodgers (priest), Mary Susan Whaley (priest), Robin White (deacon), and Robert Willis (deacon). This brings the total number of graduates from the program to 42.

All of the graduating students were ordained to the diaconate in December with the exception of Deacon Dana Orwig. Those listed as priest, with the addition of Jorge De La Rosa and Dion Crider, two prior graduates of the program serving as deacons, were ordained to the priesthood in June.

For the 2023-2024 academic year, we have five students enrolled in the program:

Class of 2025
David Braddock
George Justice

Class of 2026
Jeffrey Birk
Robert Kuhlman
James McCollum

Current faculty include Fr. Tim Sean Youmans (Scripture), and Fr. Dion Crider (Church History). We are thankful for all of the lay people and clergy from across the diocese who assist by teaching practical ministry and spiritual formation topics.

We are excited this year to add a new component to our program. Canon Stephen Carlsen and Kate Bond, Director of Faith Formation and Discipleship, will be leading workshops each month to equip students with tools they will be able to use for building congregational vitality.

Annual Report for School of Spiritual Direction

It has been my honor and privilege to have served as Dean of the School of Spiritual Direction since our opening retreat in October 2020. I am ever grateful to Bishop Paulson for supporting this program. And a big thanks to Kate Bond, who is the Ministry Partners Supervisor of our program.

In December 2022, 10 students who had been in training to be Spiritual Directors since October, 2020, completed their studies and graduated in January 2023: Debbie Butcher, the Rev. Gerald Butcher, the Rev. Elizabeth Davis, Field Griffen, Cynthia Jones, the Rev. Janie Koch, Jim McPhee, the Rev. Canon Tony Moon, the Rev. Ann Murray and the Rev. Tammy Wooliver.

A stated goal of the Steering Committee of the School is that in the Diocese of Oklahoman we wish to prepare Spiritual Directors who are Effective, Competent, Sensitive and Wise.

To be effective as a Spiritual Director, formation focuses on deeply listening to God, ourselves and the Directee. These listening skills allow our Diocese of Oklahoma Spiritual Directors to be sensitive to who the Directee is and how God is coming alive in some new way in the Directee. Therefore, our students are learning how to respond to the specific needs of Directors, each according to their own prayer temperament.

Students of the School learn many ways of practicing different prayer styles. They are steeped in the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola, in a 500-year-old prayer school which teaches the basics of how to have a prayer discipline. Throughout their training, students are given detailed instruction in the many avenues available as we build our relationship with God. Many prayer methods are taught, including Lectio Divina, developing sensitivity to interior movement, discernment, active imagination, meditation and contemplation.

Students of the School are trained in leadership methods and are leaders in the 9 month program of Retreat in Daily Life, which is offered to those throughout the Diocese. In the summer of 2023, Retreat Days were offered in the Oklahoma City Region, Southeast Region, Northeast Region and Tulsa Region, with 87 people from throughout the Diocese attending. All of the 10 graduates in the 2023 Class of Spiritual Directors were involved in the leadership of those events.

A Shadow program was instituted in September 2022, facilitated by Field Griffen. From that program, which offered deep discernment on how to best serve God's people, 8 of those discerned that they would like to enter the School of Spiritual Direction in September 2023.

The new Class of 2025 began in September, 2023, with 11 students beginning their training to be Spiritual Directors: Leesa Adams, Lauren Bass, Suzette Hatfield, Robn Kumiega, Paige Mackey, Jane Magrath, Matthew McKenna, Judy Moon, Betsy Sieck, Gloria Stice and Rose Turylo.

Students in the new Class of 2025, as part of their curriculum, will be reflecting daily on readings from the BCP Daily Office and the Rule of St. Benedict, which aligns beautifully with our BCP. The two year program for the Class of 2025 includes four terms. Students meet in monthly sessions and between monthly sessions in Peer Groups.

Summary Statements for each term:

Term One, September - December, 2023: This is an orientation term in which we focus on answering the question, "Who is God for me?"

Term Two, January - May, 2024: In this term we focus on knowing yourself, answering the question, "Who am I?" This will be done through the guidance of community professionals.

Term Three, September - December, 2024: In this term we focus on answering the question, "Who is the other?" We explore others' needs through the skill practice of deep listening.

Students begin working with directees in this term.

Term Four, January - May, 2025: In this term we focus on the transformation of self, modeled by the resurrection experience, answering the question "How will God use me now?"

St. Augustine Canterbury Association Report

Oklahoma State Campus Ministry

Greetings from Stillwater! We are thrilled to start a new semester and look forward to laughter over shared meals, praying together, impromptu campfires at Lake McMurry, working on puzzles instead of homework, game nights, birthday celebrations, coffee with the chaplain, and so much more.

This semester we have welcomed new students from Arkansas, Texas, and California, in addition to students from Christ Church, Trinity, and St. Dunstan's in Tulsa, St. James' Wagoner, St. Andrew's Stillwater, St. Matthew's Enid, St. Luke's Bartlesville, Emmanuel Shawnee, and St. Paul's in OKC. If you don't see your church listed here and have a student at OSU, let me know and we'll be sure to reach out to them!

We are grateful for the continued support from the diocese and especially the wonderful folks at St. Andrew's in Stillwater. They continue to provide meals for nearly all of our gatherings, be it donations to cover the cost of our meal, or bringing by a delicious dinner. The outreach committee thoughtfully prepared finals week care packages that were an absolute hit. We have a handful of students that because of schedules and other commitments are not able to join us for our Canterbury gatherings and the parishioners of St. Andrew's have made them feel welcomed and seen. This means more to our students than they know.

Lately we have had wonderful discussions on the nature of God's love. We have continued to lean into the idea that God's love is reckless in light of how so many people use their faith to control and limit others. With this in mind we have committed to one another and to the university community at large to find ways to live into this freeing, not constricting, vision of God's love. Through prayer, common worship and meals, scripture study, advocacy, and radical hospitality, our aim is to reflect the reckless love of God manifest in the life and teachings of Jesus.

This year we are excited to reconstitute the Canterbury board. Comprised of alums, current students, university faculty and staff, and friends from St. Andrew's, we are working hard to increase our presence on campus and the larger Stillwater community, connect with alumni and ensure the financial stability and future of the ministry. We are a great team.

Thank you for your continued support of this work and ministry and please do not hesitate to reach out if you have any questions or a student you'd like us to connect with. Better yet, if you'd like to visit a parishioner here in Stillwater, let me know, lunch is on the chaplain!

St. Anselm of Canterbury

Greetings and BOOMER SOONER!

What an unexpected and incredible year at St. Anselm of Canterbury. Every year brings with it new challenges and new surprises and 2023 was of course no different. One of the biggest changes this year was the makeup of our community. Typically, we are an undergraduate heavy program, especially in our sophomore and junior classes, while freshmen and post-grads are usually lower in numbers. This year was completely different. Many of those who called OU Canterbury home were either graduating seniors or weren't students at all, some were recently graduated and out of school, while others were previously students and taking a year away from school. This created a community with different priorities and spiritual needs, but it continued last year's blessing of consistent and mature leadership. It is difficult to anticipate if this trend will continue, but here at Canterbury we are incredibly grateful for God's constant and continual expansion of who we are called to serve.

The highlight of our year, without a doubt, was our now annual visit from Bishop Poulson. This year was particularly memorable due to the fact that we confirmed 7 Episcopalians and baptized another. Incredibly, each of our confirmands came from a different tradition or denomination, and yet have chosen to call Canterbury and the Episcopal church home, many due to the fact that we are committed to the full inclusion and support of all of God's children, particularly our LGBT+ brothers and sisters. We do not take for granted the great privilege and responsibility it is to be introducing a new generation of Episcopalians to the church, and the church to a new generation of leaders and have nothing but hope for the future of our church.

Our building continues to be the hub of our community, but even more importantly it provides an invaluable space to build relationships with some of our local ministry partners. Every Sunday morning we continue to host the local Religious Society of Friends, also known as the Quakers, as we have for more than a decade. We also had the privilege this summer of extending hospitality to our Jewish neighbors and members of OU Hillel, hosting their weekly Shabat while their building is being renovated. Our kitchen continues to crank out meals for the homeless in partnership with Red Dirt Collective, Social Injustice League of Norman, and Care-a-vans.

This year has brought with it another new change. In 2023, through the continual financial support of the diocese, both of our college chaplains at OU and OSU have received coaching and mentoring focused on Board development, and to that end have created all new Boards of Trustees. This is long overdue and will be an invaluable resource to our college ministries as well as our chaplains in discerning and advocating for these important ministries moving forward.

This July also marks a significant milestone in the ministry of both our Chaplain, Fr. Blake Woods, as well as our organist Clint Davis, as they celebrate 10 years together at St. Anselm's. Clint's music forms the heart of our worship and our little chapel is so proud to have one of the finest organists and cantors in the state. As Fr. Blake continues his second decade as our Chaplain, he continues his ministry in the larger church as well. As a part of the Diocesan staff, Fr. Blake's work with the Ministry Partners has expanded to include coaching, focused around the Diocesan vitality initiative named Faithful Innovation. Fr. Blake was also the chaplain at the Diocesan High School retreat, Ignite. He also continues to be involved in the National church as well. This past year began his 6th year serving on the Presiding Bishop's Young Adult and Campus Ministry Advisory Council as the Province 7 Coordinator.

Fr. Blake also served on the planning team for the YACM National Conference, as well as EYE 2023, and he was the chaplain for the 2023 Episcopal Camp and Conference Center Annual Conference. In addition to this he was invited to participate in Thriving in Ministry, working as a coach and mentor to new college chaplains.

2023 was an incredible year for St. Anselm of Canterbury and we continue to prayerfully listen to how God is calling us to partner in Gospel work on the campus of the University of Oklahoma and beyond. Please pray for us and for the young adults around the Diocese and around the country who call this church home.

Yours in Christ,

Fr. Blake Woods

Episcopal Chaplain to the University of Oklahoma

Advance Report to 2023 Diocesan Convention

Prison Ministries

What do you think of when you hear the words, "Prison Ministry"? Occasionally, some of us have heard others say, "It's wonderful that you bring Christ into the prisons!" However, when we actually arrive inside the walls, we meet Jesus Christ already present there, working in the hearts and minds of those who seek new directions for their life. As Jesus once said,

"I was in prison and you visited me." - Matthew 25:36

When seeking to discern effective ways for our congregations to reach out and make meaningful connections within their communities -- that is to say, to participate in the Vitality which is God's Creative and Healing Activity in the World -- Prison Ministry is one opportunity where we can learn and experience much toward that goal.

For example, due to the Correctional System's extreme separation of the incarcerated from those living in free society, Prison Ministry serves as a cross-cultural, immersive experience for those who engage in it. This immersion invites us to create new perspectives from which to view our own cultural contexts, both personally as well as within the congregations of which we are a part. We have seen people begin doing Prison Ministry, and then respond to what they've learned by going back into their congregations to create new ministries that reach out into their communities in various ways.

Some of the most spiritually impassioned and motivated people we know are avid prison ministers, and their enthusiasm can be contagious! We have a group of Prison Ministry Coordinators who led our various correctional-related ministries this past year, most of whom headed up teams operating inside prisons, although some ministered in programs reaching out to those at risk for becoming incarcerated. Our Diocesan Prison Missioner works part-time to support and equip our Prison Ministry Coordinators and the teams, and to engage with the Oklahoma Department of Corrections at the administrative levels required to keep our Prison Ministries running smoothly.

What follows are reports that our Prison Ministry Coordinators or their team members have provided, organized by ministry types and locations.

The Taft Unit: Eddie Warrior (women) & Jess Dunn (men) Correctional Centers, Taft, OK

"With the exception of the yards being locked down, we have [led services] at both Eddie Warrior and Jess Dunn [weekly] every Wednesday and monthly on Saturdays. We moved Baptisms to quarterly from randomly and have baptized/received over 45 women since the first of the year. We have between 45-65 women per Wednesday and 8-20 men. Also, we supplied tooth brushes and tooth paste to 1600 inmates last Christmas. Our ministry team is growing, slowly as we get the word out." - Mother Cheryl Harder, Trinity-Tulsa

As inmates are baptized or re-dedicate their lives to Christ, their names are added to an Altar Cloth. "The Altar Cloth at Eddie Warrior has about 70 names to be added! Most were Baptisms, but we have a good number of Re-Dedications to add as well. As we've had more women move from Mabel Bassett to Eddie Warrior, we have been doing Baptisms every quarter, with usually 10-12 women. Mother Cheryl has been assisted by Deacon Linda Paul, Janice Garvin and Kathryn Cox to make Baptisms happen in one hour!

Additional team members at the Taft Unit are Ted Garvin of Good Shepherd - Sapulpa; and from our Tulsa congregations: Pam Diaz - St. John's, Shawna Merritt - Trinity, and Janice Drummond - St. Luke's.

The Altar Cloth was started by Mother Susanne Methven (among many things!) to show the women their "names are written" not only in heaven but on an altar cloth that gets used regularly! We are so glad that Donna Fariior and her wonderful embroidery group at St. John's Church, Tulsa, have picked up this important ministry of Acknowledgment! The Men [at Jess Dunn] have an Altar Cloth as well! "We haven't had any new Baptisms, but with the lockdown it's been difficult to restart services!"

- Deacon Linda Paul, Trinity-Tulsa.

Joseph Harp Correctional Center, Lexington OK

"We hold Episcopal worship every Sunday evening at this medium security men's facility. Attendance typically runs from 6 to 10 men. We are particularly known at this facility for our generous hospitality to all people, especially to some inmates who, for various reasons, do not feel as welcome to attend services held by some other ministry groups. This provides us many opportunities to model gracious and Christ-centered inclusiveness to all those who live or serve at this facility." - Mr. Martin Hartmann & The Rev. Nancy Brock, Prison Missioner

James Crabtree Correctional Center, Helena, OK

We sponsor Episcopal worship on first, third and fifth Thursdays at this medium security men's facility, located approximately 45 minutes northwest of Enid. Attendance varies from 20 to 30 men. This Episcopal prison community stands out due to having an inmate choir that rehearses weekly and provides a cappella musical selections during each service based on its assigned Scripture readings and liturgical themes! There is also an inmate worship team that plans various men's participation in reading the lessons and makes other preparations so that, by the time we arrive, everybody knows their role so that our worship service goes smoothly.

- Mr. Martin Hartmann & The Rev. Nancy Brock, Prison Missioner

Oklahoma State Penitentiary (OSP), McAlester, OK

OSP is the oldest prison in Oklahoma and houses both maximum and medium security level men. "With the assistance of Kitt Songstad, I have done cell-to-cell ministry in Unit H (maximum security) at OSP twice a month (but not Unit H Southwest, where death row is) and conducted worship in the medium security chapel (Distribution of Communion from the Reserved Sacrament at All Saints[-McAlester]) twice a month. We have had to cope with several lockdowns [throughout the past year], one of which started just as we were about to begin a worship service." - Deacon Wayne Hanway

Mabel Bassett Correctional Center, McLoud, OK

John Lilley Correctional Center, Boley, OK

Lexington Assessment & Reception Center, ("LARC"), Lexington, OK

Kairos Prison Ministries

Lutheran Deacon Sue Way, who with her team leads our ministries at the three prisons above, and is also involved in Kairos Prison Ministries International, shares her experiences: "My team includes Gary Way and Cindy Bowling. Gary and I lead services in Mabel Bassett, LARC, and John Lilley. Cindy also assists at Mabel Bassett.

Mabel Bassett has a divided yard; therefore we only see each side an average of twice a month. Attendance can be from as few as three to 30, which is the capacity of the room. Unfortunately, the air conditioning in the Chapel at MBCC has been out all summer where we hold our services.

At LARC we meet in the Visitation Room, and most of the inmates come from a medical unit. We may have 6 or 8 attendees or none. There is another service in the Chapel at the same time and they have lively music which we do not.

We go to John Lilley only once a month and have anywhere from 30 to 50 attendees. It is a minimum security prison, so the atmosphere is more relaxed. It may sound strange to say, but it is fun to go there.

Cindy and I also participate in Kairos Prison Ministry, which is a 4-day retreat for those in prison which focuses on how much God loves them and offers forgiveness. We do this by being conduits for God's love and care. We have witnessed lives changed by these weekends. At times I have actually felt the Holy Spirit moving and working among us in a prison gym. Kairos is non-denominational, therefore we are asked to lay aside our denominational differences and to work in God's pure love. It is such a great opportunity to live out the gospel.

Moral Reconciliation Therapy (MRT) Groups

Moral Reconciliation Therapy (MRT) is a nationally recognized, small group, cognitive therapy program that dramatically reduces recidivism and disciplinary issues within correctional systems. Our three trained and credentialed facilitators -- Deacon Alan Barrow, Ms. Kathryn Cox, and Ms. Beth Davidson – are qualified to conduct this cognitive behavioral program, which challenges and mentors participants into elevating their moral reasoning capacity while increasing awareness of their inward, personal and spiritual self-identity in relationship to others.

At Jess Dunn Correctional Center: Deacon Alan Barrow conducted one MRT class late in 2023, another class earlier in 2023, and will be starting another class soon.

At Resonance, in Tulsa, Oklahoma: Kathryn Cox and Beth Davidson first pioneered and, for a number of years into mid-2023, conducted MRT classes with women who had been deferred from entering incarceration, pending successful completion of the Resonance program.

Kathryn shares her experience: "Earlier this year, our volunteering at Resonance ended. They had to change their structure a bit in preparation for an accreditation audit, and volunteers are no longer allowed to facilitate "therapy" groups. We were sad; our Resonance staff, who was always in the MRT group with us and believed so strongly in MRT, was almost in tears. We left there confident that we had done good work and paved the way for future MRT groups. During our time there, the Resonance management sent two of their staff to MRT training, so what we started will continue."

IN CONCLUSION

Lutheran Deacon Sue Way sums up for us some of the fruits and blessings she has experienced and seen in our Prison Ministries:

"I think the lessons that we have learned from doing prison ministry are faith lessons in love and servanthood. We are directed to love and visit those in prison. We are not to be judgmental but to see them at this moment in time and reassure them that God loves them and, if they turn to him, he will forgive them. We meet them where they are today, not in their past. I have found that more often than not I am not looking at their whole but at their eyes to see if the love of God can be growing in their souls, a spark of God's light. I know that some come to church to just get out of their cells, some to meet friends from the other side of the yard, some out of curiosity, and some who truly like our services and the way we present God to them. There is an appreciation that we are there faithfully." - Lutheran Deacon Sue Way

September 2023

Dear Diocesan Convention,

Holland Hall has concluded our Centennial Celebrations—our 101st year, featuring our 100th graduating class, finds us also celebrating our 65th as an Episcopal school serving future leaders for Tulsa, the nation, and the world!

Executing a strategic plan focused on academic excellence, on environments that put student belonging and wellness in the center of our work, and on sharing our resources and the public purpose of Holland Hall, we have continued the work that makes Episcopal school's models for other independent schools on how to achieve both excellence and belonging. We are profoundly delighted to continue to share the Episcopal tradition of an open, inclusive community that values the dignity and worth of every human being in our midst with our students, their families, and the broader Tulsa community.

More than one hundred years ago, Holland Hall's Founding Fathers contacted an outstanding progressive educator with Dutch ancestry. Ms. Winnifred Schureman answered their call and made the bold commitment to help begin a school in Tulsa. Their avowed purpose was to "place a fully equipped Preparatory School of the highest standing where each student may receive individual attention, within reach of any citizen of Tulsa." That purpose remains true, and our work to ensure equity and access for promising students deepens each year.

Holland Hall now serves over 1000 students from 41 different zip codes and several different countries. Our faculty come from all over the nation to connect and engage students on their level. Finally, our arts and athletics programs remain robust, competitive, distinct in their individual approaches, and core to the overall student experience. Our core values of Honesty, Trust, Hard Work, Respect, Kindness, and Self-Regulation continue to reveal themselves in our students and all the conversations surrounding their development.

We are so thankful for our Episcopal affiliation and the distinct, meaningful conversations that arise because of our approach. Much is to be celebrated in the relationship, the most important of which is our combined capacity to help children develop a meaningful philosophy of life and to have a servant's heart.

With warmest regards,

J.P. Culley

Annual Report to the eighty-sixth Diocesan Convention
September 2023

This past year has been a year of celebrations as we continue to live into the mission set by Bishop Thomas J. Casady 75 years ago, “To be a school on par with the wonderful boarding schools back East.” Today we have honed our Mission to articulate our objective more intentionally, “to develop excellence, confidence, and integrity in our students by preparing them with the skills and knowledge that serve as the foundation for success.” While we have grown from 36 students in 1947 to more than 1,000 students today, we still live into the same core mission.

100% of the class of 2023 will be attending one of 47 colleges and universities. 78% of our students will attend schools outside of Oklahoma, with 95% receiving more than one offer and 92% admitted to one of their top-choice colleges. 86% of the students received a scholarship, with 12 attending university honors colleges or programs. We had 12 National Merit Finalists and one U.S. Presidential Scholar. Finally, nine senior class members will participate in five intercollegiate sports.

As a school, we continued to review and assess our curriculum to ensure the skills necessary for success remained the priority. Artificial Intelligence has become a big focus for us, and it's hard to imagine that it came onto the scene this past November. As with many transformational moments in history, this will be another one we will find ways to harness and utilize to further our mission of developing skills and knowledge in our students. In addition, we are pleased to welcome (attached) a great group of new faculty and staff for this year. We share it with you and ask that you specifically pray for each one, that God gives them the clarity and skill to be the most effective educators to our youth.

I ask that you continue to pray for our faculty and students' safety as we press forward with confidence and continue to “love God, love People.”

Faithfully,

Nathan L. Sheldon
