Greetings SVDP families! It is that time of year when our learners are gearing up for summer break. Please continue to remind them, as we do daily, that these last few weeks of school are so important. Please be sure to keep on top of their school work by checking their homework journals, Headmaster Online (grades 2-8), and teacher blogs to stay in the academic loop! -Maria Meeker

Dear Parents,

We are encouraging our students to read books over the summer. We hope you can support this endeavor.

Grade 1-3 are encouraged to read 20 books or more.

Grade 4-8 are encouraged to read 10 books or more.

The students who achieve this goal will receive prizes and a "Cool Reading", T shirt , that they may wear on designated school days.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Neumann

What Does the Research Say about Effective Summer Reading Practices?

1. The number of books read in summer is consistently related to academic gains.
2. Children in every income group who read six or more books in summer gained more in reading achievement than children who did not.
3. The use of the public library during the summer is more predictive of vocabulary gains than attending summer school.
4. The major factors determining whether a child reads over the summer were: whether the child used the public library; the child's sex (girls read more than boys); socioeconomic status; and the distance from home to a library.
5. "More than any other public institution, including the schools, the public library contributed to the intellectual growth of children during the summer. Moreover, unlike summer school programs, the library was used by over half the children and attracted children from diverse backgrounds" (Heyns 1978, 77).
