

November 13, 2020

To: Attendees of Family Life.

Family Life Community Church is committed to keeping all those who attend our services, events and home churches up-to-date and informed relative to the COVID-19 pandemic. In doing so, on Thursday 11/12/2020 we were notified that individuals were present at both worship services on Sunday 11/8/2020 and at meetings conducted in the building on Monday 11/9/2020 who tested positive for Covid.

The individuals, and those deemed to have been in contact, will remain at home in self isolation as recommended by the Local Health Authority and CDC. They will continue to isolate until they have met all Local Health Authority and CDC requirements.

Out of an abundance of caution for the well-being of our church family, we are cancelling all in-person meetings and activities through Saturday, November 21st. If you have not been notified that you were in close contact with the individual(s), please continue to self-monitor for COVID related symptoms and follow all COVID protocol (masking, hand washing, social distancing) as required by Washington State guidelines.

This means we will also be live-streaming our Sunday service only on November 15th as a precaution to prevent any further spread. You will receive communication from your ministry leaders regarding how ministry or your Home Church will be meeting over the next 10 days. We are taking extra precautions for deep and rigorous sanitization process of our building as well. Please pray the Lord will mercifully restrain any spread of this virus within our church family as we plan to resume normal ministry on Sunday, November 22. The safety of our Family Life community remains our top priority. If you have concerns or questions please do not hesitate to call 253-797-0955 or email contact@fl-cc.com.

Sincerely,

The Leadership Team of Family Life
