1. Who labeled you during your formative years? How did labels impact your childhood or adolescence? Have those adolescent labels impacted you as an adult? In hindsight, did the people who labeled you have the right to label you?
2. Why do you think younger generations are turning inward for a sense of identity?
3. If you let God label you, and let God determine your value, what implications would that have on your ever day life? Try to name at least ten.
4. Read Isaiah 43:1. In what ways is belonging to God better than belonging to yourself?
5. Who has the right to label you? What can you do this week to let his label be the only one that sticks?
6. What has impacted you most in the baptism part of this series?

Note: Our topic this Sunday will be communion, and communion will be held during the public services.
