*The Bible says in Matthew 5:9,
"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God."*

This statement is a call to be what God refers to as a peacemaker. The question we must answer is, how do we do the work of peacemaking? The most important step in peacemaking is the first step which is, I must make the first move. All too often we're caught in the trap of waiting for someone to move. This thinking is exacerbated by our thinking it's their fault; "When they come to me, I'll face the conflict!"

The reality is, God expects you to make the first move; peacemakers take the initiative. The Bible says in Matthew 5:23-24 that reconciliation should take priority over worship. ["Therefore, if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother or sister has something against you, <sup>24</sup> leave your gift there in front of the altar. First go and be reconciled to them; then come and offer your gift."] The only real way to resolve a conflict is to face it. Holding on to toxic things will contaminate you.

Unresolved conflict in our lives creates resentment, bitterness, and fear. These issues make us defensive – afraid to reveal our real selves; distant – withdrawn, hiding our true feelings; and demanding – extreme in our desire to control things and have our way. Let me encourage you to plan a sit down with someone you may be in conflict with. In planning your sit down, be sensitive to timing, pray before your meeting, ensure you have a positive attitude, look for win/win opportunity, and don't look for who's right, but for what's right.

Peace and Blessings!
