

REGENT-BRIDGES SEMINAR SERIES 2018

Dr. Julie Reams

is a Professor of Practical Theology and Formation at Regent University, where she focuses on Pastoral Ministry, Spiritual Formation, and Christian Spirituality. She spent several years on the mission field with Youth with A Mission and has traveled to 31 countries, including leading biblical tours of Israel and retracing the footsteps of the Apostle Paul in Greece and Turkey. She has a passion for discipleship and helping equip leaders with deep spiritual roots, so they can walk in their God-given, Kingdom purpose.

She is the Pastor of Spiritual Formation at Metro Church in the Washington, D.C area where she oversees the discipleship, pastoral care, and prayer ministry. She received her Masters in Practical Theology and Human Service Counseling and her Doctorate of Ministry from Regent. While there, she met close friends in her seminary classes, and they sensed God had brought them together for a bigger purpose. After graduation, they moved to the D.C. area to plant Metro Church, which has grown from 17 people to 4,000 in the past 10 years.

Catalyzing Corporate Prayer — James 5:16 says that the prayers of the righteous will avail much. We will explore different types of corporate prayer and study different movements of prayer and how they were a precursor to every major revival in church history.

Stewarding God's Dreams for You — Why does God give us dreams and desires so many years before they come to fruition, and how do we steward these in prayer?
