Kathleen Patterson, Ph.D.

Professor

Director, Doctorate of Strategic

Leadership Program

School of Business & Leadership

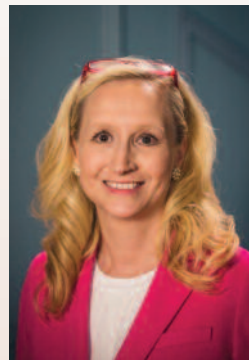

Regent University

Dr. Kathleen Patterson currently serves as a Professor and the Director of the Doctor of Strategic Leadership program in the School of Business & Leadership at Regent University, where she has been since 1999. Dr. Patterson is noted as an expert on servant leadership. She coordinates an annual Servant Leadership Research Roundtable on the East Coast in Virginia Beach, where both scholars and practitioners meet together to engage in servant leadership discourse. She has also co-coordinated three Global Servant Leadership Research Roundtables, in the Netherlands, Australia and Iceland. Dr. Patterson is involved in numerous consulting projects locally, nationally and abroad. Her two recent edited books, alongside Bruce Winston, include “Ethics: The Old Testament, The New Testament, and Contemporary Application” and “Leading an African Renaissance: Opportunities and Challenges.” Additionally, she sits on the board of directors for the Larry C. Spears Center, CareNet and Millennials for Marriage.

Significance: Finding Yourself in Servanthood, Suffering and Spotlights

Saturday, November 18, 2017 | 9 a.m. – 3 p.m.

First Baptist Church of Glenarden Ministry Center
3600 Brightseat Road | Landover, MD 20785

The world tells us that significance is found in spotlights; the Bible calls us to be servants. The world tells us to pursue comfort; the Bible tells us suffering is our path. We will have ‘hills and valleys’ — both are for our good. We seek our significance and our purpose, the ‘what are we here for’ — which can only be found in following Jesus in our leadership.
