Thursday of the Third Week of Lent

Good morning!

We read Jeremiah 7:23-28, Psalm 95, and Luke 11:14-23. God commands that we listen to him. God desires to walk with us, and when we do so, we will prosper. Our Lenten season helps us to see where we have listened and where we have ventured on our own. Jesus expels a demon from a mute man. People think he has done so by Beelzebul. He has not. We cannot be divided. We need to believe. In believing, we find the journey is better and less burdensome. We are called to listen. Our psalm response says everything: "If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts."

Peace,
