

Tuesday, January 30, 2024
Tuesday of the Fourth Week
in Ordinary Time

Good morning!

We read 2 Samuel 18:9-10, 14, 24-25, 30-19:3, Psalm 86, and Mark 5:21-43.

Again the heaviness of our readings brings us down to earth and the realities that life can hand us. David mourns his son even though the son has tried to kill David and has taken his wives. Jairus seeks healing for his daughter who is at the point of death, a woman with a hemorrhage touches Jesus seeking healing after twelve years. We bring our real life to Jesus and confront the evils in today's world. It can be difficult to understand why miracles do not appear to happen to everyone, being healed, or being brought back to life. Jesus' words of faith and trust are what we are to hear. "Daughter, your faith has healed you." 'Do not be afraid, just have faith." The challenge comes to continue to live our lives in faith and hope. "Incline your ear, O Lord, answer me."

Peace,

RevKev

"Listen, Lord, and answer me."

<http://www.bible.usccb.org/>