

Wednesday, May 17, 2023
Wednesday of the
Sixth Week of Easter

Good morning!

We read Acts 17:15, 22 - 18:1, Psalm 148, and John 16:12-15. Paul's journey through Athens, examining its many shrines, even a shrine "To an Unknown God." Paul shares with them the Christian view of God, "The Lord of heaven and earth, does not dwell in sanctuaries made by human hands, nor is he served by human hands because he needs anything. Rather it is he who gives to everyone life and breath and everything." Paul gives an eloquent speech, many listen yet walk away, wanting more later, a few stayed and became believers. Jesus continues his farewell speech. The Holy Spirit will come, the Spirit of Truth, "He will not speak on his own, but he will speak what he hears and declare to you the things that are coming." It is in God that we live and move and have our being. May the Spirit of Truth continue to strengthen us on the journey and place in our hearts a word, an action, a renewal that will draw others closer to our God.

Peace,
RevKev

"Heaven and earth are full of your glory, alleluia!"

<http://www.bible.usccb.org/>