

Tuesday, June 13, 2023
Tuesday of the
Tenth Week in Ordinary Time

Good morning!

We celebrate Saint Anthony of Padua. We read 2 Corinthians 1:18-22, Psalm 119, and Matthew 5:13-16. Where does your "yes" come from? Are you "salt of the earth", or "a light to the world"? Salt adds nothing but brings out the flavor already there. A light adds nothing but allows you to see what is around you. If we are salt, then we bring out in others their goodness. If we are light, we allow others to see in themselves their goodness. How is this so? The Holy Spirit has been given to us as a first installment which allows us to proclaim "Amen." May we see our light and be salt for the world and recognize the good that exists around us, and bring healing and strength to areas or people who are in the darkness or weak in spirit. "Lord, let your face shine on me."

Peace,

RevKev

"Lord, let your face shine on me."

<http://www.bible.usccb.org/>