Good Morning!

Today we celebrate St. Marcellinus and St. Peter. Our readings come from 2 Peter 3:12-15, 17-18, Psalm 90 and Mark 12:13-17. The Pharisees and Herodians said to Jesus, "Teacher, we know that you are a truthful man and that you are not concerned with anyone's opinion. You do not regard a person's status but teach the way of God in accordance with the truth." How great is this for what Jesus is known? Christianity has always been about living the truth. Sure physical things belong to Cesar but our souls belong to God. Status in life does not matter as much as a desire to know God and follow Jesus. Psalm 90 states, "Fill us at daybreak with your kindness that we may shout for joy and gladness all our days. Let your work be seen by your servants and glory by their children." May we be filled with hope today and reflect upon the actions of those causing destruction in this time of peaceful protesting and needed change. Where did they learn this? What matters is in our hearts and the heart of George Floyd was filled with love. "May the Father of our Lord Jesus enlighten the eyes of our hearts, that we may know what is the hope that belongs to his call."

Peace,

RevKev
