Good Morning!

Today we read from 2 Kings 25:1-12, Psalm 137 and Matthew 8:1-4. As Jesus comes down the mountain, he puts into practice what he had preached in the Sermon on the Mount. Jesus touches and heals a leper. How long the leper had suffered, we do not know, but we do know that he had great faith and he knew Jesus as "Lord." The people of Jerusalem felt oppressed for two years while under siege and finally overtaken by the Babylonians. Some days we may wonder where God is but in the midst of suffering and fear, when we come before Jesus and seek healing, and strength, Jesus will be there for us to reach out and touch us. Are we willing to do the same for others?

Peace,

RevKev
