Monday of the Fifteenth Week in Ordinary Time

Good Morning!

We read Exodus 1:8-14, 22, Psalm 124, and Matthew 10:34-11:1. There is a new Pharaoh in town and it is not going well for the children of Israel. Jesus said to his Apostles that life will not be easy and divisions will occur within families due to faith and the love of God. It is apparent in life today that division exists. It has become more pronounced as children and spouses are not finding the practice of the faith as important in life as we may want them to be. Sometimes picking up our crosses and following Jesus is taking time and care of ourselves so we can be good for others. Who will you be able to offer a cup of cold water to today?

Peace,
RevKev
