Good Morning!

Today we read from Hosea 14:2-10, Psalm 51 and Matthew 10:16-23. How well do you let God work through you? Have you ever found yourself saying something and later thinking to yourself, where did that come from? The Holy Spirit works in mysterious ways when we trust in the Spirit of God. Jesus warns his disciples it won't be easy. Jesus states, "Behold, I am sending you like sheep in the midst of wolves, so be shrewd as serpents and simple as doves." The invitation to Israel to return to the Lord is powerful and encompasses God's love and compassion for all. Why do we not trust in our return to the Lord? Is it out of fear of ourselves, of others or the Lord? The Lord is willing to welcome anyone back, remember, "Straight are the paths of the Lord, in them the just walk, but sinners stumble in them. Reflect on Psalm 51 and trust that the Lord will renew you today with the joy of salvation.

Peace,

RevKev
