Tuesday of the Twenty-Second
Week in Ordinary Time

Good morning!

We read 1 Thessalonians 5:1-6, 9-11, Psalm 27, and Luke 4:31-37. The thief in the night comes in so many ways. We are prepared with the grace of God, as children of the light and children of the day. When we stay alert and sober, we find our lives are not of night or darkness. When all such serious and surprising things happen, we find ourselves prepared in the Holy Spirit to accept the blessings or the challenges. We all know how quickly things can change in our lives. Jesus is always here to help and we rely on the Holy Spirit to carry us through. We can be freed from the darkness that surrounds us and we can see the light even in the middle of challenging experiences. May the love of God continue to guide us so others can see in our presence and actions this love so they too will know, see, and feel loved by God. Jesus, dispel the darkness and bring us into your light.

Peace,
RevKev
