Monday of the Thirty-First
Week in Ordinary Time

Good morning!

We read Romans 11:29-36, Psalm 69, and Luke 14:12-14. Mercy! "The gifts and the call of God are irrevocable," Paul states. We have entered a new week, God's mercy is upon us. Jesus has invited us to a banquet, look around, who is here? Remember those days when we were down and out, sad, depressed, blind, crippled, and God's mercy was shown to us by others. In gratitude, we remember the embraces, the words, the forgiveness, and the encouragement to see the goodness in life that God has given. "Oh, the depth of the riches and wisdom and knowledge of God!" We cannot know the depth of God's ways but we can know the gift of God's mercy and bestow onto others, time, mercy, love, and compassion. By doing so, we know we will be repaid in "the resurrection of the righteous." Enter the banquet this week and seek what you may need or give what you might give.

Peace,

RevKev

"Lord, in your great love, answer me."
