Tuesday of the Thirty-First
Week in Ordinary Time

Good morning!

We read Romans 12:5-16, Psalm 131, and Luke 14:15-24. What is your gift?

How is it being used? We have been invited to a banquet, are you willing and prepared to attend? You have received the "save the date card," now it is time for the celebration. Why would people walk away? Why would people not want to share their gifts, recognizing that we are all part of the same body? If you are an arm, can you function without a hand? Do not we need each other? Paul writes, "Do not grow slack in zeal, be fervent in spirit, serve the Lord." It is not time to be haughty, we need to regard one another in love, respect, and endurance. The "Kingdom of God" is open to all, rejoice in the hope that one day we will all be together! Why not encourage someone to have a taste/look here on Earth?

Peace,

RevKev

"In you, O Lord, I have found my peace."
