Tuesday of the Third Week of Advent

Good morning!

We celebrate Saint Lucy. We read Zephaniah 3:1-2, 9-13, Psalm 34, and Matthew 21:28-32. Is there something recently that you said "no" to and realized, "Wait, I may need to do this"? Conversion, change of mind or attitude, and repentance are all part of the season in which we walk. Our sinfulness can be forgiven and forgotten, our acts of charity can increase, and we seek forgiveness for our sinfulness by being more accepting of other repentant sinners. What a glorious way to prepare for the Lord. What a freeing experience it is to let go of past sins. The light of the Lord shines on all! Can we take to heart the fullness or will we simply stay mediocre? The Lord hears our cries. "The Lord redeems the lives of his servants; no one incurs guilt who takes refuge in him."

Peace,

RevKev
