Jesus Is The Reason For The Season!

Sibling Revelry!

Yes, more than one . . . Brothers and Sisters Get help!

I was born and raised in Richmond, VA, in a loving Christian home, but I strayed from my upbringing.

I was looking for acceptance and happiness in the world of music. My life was working various restaurant and bar jobs, playing in bands and partying in an attempt to be considered a "cool guy". I thought if I got this particular job or got this one band together or could end up with this girl that everything would right itself.

In late summer of 2006, I overdosed on heroin and cocaine. I wound up in the hospital, near dead and extremely hopeless. My father found New Life for Youth online, and I immediately agreed to come in. He brought me to New Life, where my relationship with Jesus has been restored. I feel forgiven, happy and at peace with my life.

Since being here, God has used me to be an example to my two brothers, who have also entered New Life For Youth, restoring our entire family. Words cannot express how coming into this program has meant to me and my family. God has led me to turn my life around one hundred and eighty degrees.

After taking pills for 10 years, I built up to Morphine, OxyContin and finally heroin. The daily use and the horrible sickness of withdrawal eventually even made it difficult to take care of my children. After losing a great job, I began supporting my habit by stealing from my parents. I was scared of who I had become, so one day I called my brother Joe for help. Four years earlier, my brother overdosed on heroin and was revived on the way to the hospital. He heard of New Life For Youth during a brief stay in Gloucester City Jail and entered the program in 2003. While my addiction got worse, he rededicated his life to the Lord and began to heal. I wanted the same chance for life, so I entered the Mercy House.

Since coming to New Life For Youth, my life has been turned around completely. I have a joy and a peace in my heart that is indescribable. I love the Lord and want to continue my close walk with Him. No matter what the Lord calls me to do, I want to be a blessing to others and serve Him for the rest of my life.

New Life For Youth wishes you a Merry Christmas!

Training Tomorrow's Leaders... Today

The greatest testimony of our success is a changed life. Daily we have men and women walking through the doors with gifts, talents and untapped potential. We see this potential from students in the program, and we are committed to providing those students with an opportunity to grow and receive additional leadership training.

The first portion of our leadership training is New Life for Youth's Elevate Leaders Program. This is a training tool that provides a course of action and resources to identify, equip and train New Life for Youth students and staff who aspire to greater levels of responsibility within New Life for Youth. The second powerful segment is our International School of Ministry. Our accredited school that identifies individuals who emerge into key leaders in the organization. The International School of Ministry is divided into five trimesters and is designed to be completed in two years. Various educational institutions grant credits for ISOM coursework which can later be put towards an accredited Associates of Biblical Studies degree or and Associates degree of Practical Ministry.

Together these revolutionary programs will have not only lasting effects on the quality of this organization, but will impact the communities, families, employers and ministries that our "Leaders of Tomorrow" will return to.
