

WELCOME

Years ago a study was done by graduate students of Columbia University to see how members of the various sections of 11 major symphony orchestras perceived each other. The results were interesting to say the least: Overall, the percussionists were viewed as insensitive, unintelligent, hard of hearing, but most likely to prank the conductor or others. The brass players were overwhelmingly described as loud. Woodwind players were held in the highest esteem, being described as quiet and meticulous, though sometimes a bit egotistical.

With such widely divergent personalities and perceptions, one might ask how an orchestra ever came together to produce such wonderful music. But the answer is simple: regardless of how those musicians view each other, they subordinate their feelings and biases to the leadership of the conductor. Under his guidance, they play beautiful music.

Let us follow the leadership of our Conductor—Jesus—today as we worship, and in the days, weeks, and months ahead, as we seek others for Him.

»» SERMON SERIES

There is a phenomenon that continues to grow in almost every country of the world: It's called the Coffee Shop. What is it that continually draws people to small, usually crowded places, to purchase over-priced beverages? Is it that people just love giving $5 for a cup of coffee, or is there something more? The coffee shop has become a center of influence in today's society. What can we learn from this Phenomenon? In this new teaching series from Pastor Ben, we will study the Scriptures to see how Jesus introduced an authentic spirituality and Christian experience that people gladly stood in line for. We will make our church a center of influence as we discover what God is brewing to satisfy that deep, down spiritual longing--and He won't even make us stand in line.
