

WELCOME

Entire books haven't been (and probably will be again) written on how the church should be more like Starbucks. Crazy as it may seem, some churches have a Starbucks right inside their church! And the pastor has written an entire sermon series that examines Starbucks to make the church more viable and successful in reaching people—or has he?

When God Goes to Starbucks is not about trying to make the church more like Starbucks, it's about understanding that Starbucks did what the Bible says the Church should be doing. Starbucks created a center of influence where people desire to gather and participate not just with coffee—but in a lifestyle.

Yet Starbucks didn't originate the idea. Throughout the Scripture God has invitations for us to gather at His place—not for coffee, but for fellowship, restoration, and redemption. Starbucks always asks for your name, but God has your name written on His hand (Isa 49:16). Starbucks offers excellence, but the Bible says the Christian should do everything to the glory of God (1 Cor 10:31).

I don't think the church should learn anything from Starbucks except that when we follow the Bible principles we discover they work! And if we would do the small things like loving God and loving each other, we might discover that Springdale Adventist Fellowship is that "third place". Hmmm, it might even become first place.

»» SERMON SERIES

There is a phenomenon that continues to grow in almost every country of the world: It's called the Coffee Shop. What is it that continually draws people to small, usually crowded places, to purchase over-priced beverages? Is it that people just love giving $5 for a cup of coffee, or is there something more? The coffee shop has become a center of influence in today's society. What can we learn from this Phenomenon? In this new teaching series from Pastor Ben, we will study the Scriptures to see how Jesus introduced an authentic spirituality and Christian experience that people gladly stood in line for. We will make our church a center of influence as we discover what God is brewing to satisfy that deep, down spiritual longing--and He won't even make us stand in line.
