

WELCOME

Hattie Green's life was a sad demonstration of what it is like to be among the living dead. When Hattie died in 1916, her estate was valued at over $100 million; yet Hattie lived in poverty. She ate cold oatmeal because it cost money to heat it. When her son's leg became infected, Hattie wouldn't get it treated until she could find a clinic that wouldn't charge her. By then, her son's leg had to be amputated. She had money to meet her every need, but she chose to live as if it didn't exist.

Morris Siegel was a street person in Los Angeles. He lived like most street people--roaming about in back alleys, sleeping outdoors, carrying everything he owned in an old shopping cart. The interesting thing about Morris is that he had $207,421 in the bank at the time of his death. When his father died ten years earlier, he had left the money to Morris. However, Morris did not want it. He took only enough of the money to buy an old car, where he slept in bad weather. Relatives rented an apartment for him, but he never went there. He died December 14, 1989, in an alley, with three dollars in his pocket and an untouched fortune in the bank.

Reading these two vignettes caused me to wonder if there was an area of my life that I was squandering. Do I waste money, time, both? What I do know is I want to be faithful with what I have. What about you?

BIBLE READING

challenge

What if we started this year with a commitment to read all the way through the Bible? Can you imagine? Genesis to Revelation over the next 360 Days? Each week in the "THIS WEEK" section of the bulletin, you'll notice some Bible texts in GREEN. If you will read those verses each day, by December 31, 2020, you will have read cover to cover through the entire Bible. You'll notice a balance in the daily reading from Old and New Testaments. This is because there are some chapters that are heavy reading, and we want to balance it out. Are you up for the challenge? Let's do this one together!

"UndeFEETed" with GEORGE DENNEHY

Better known as "that armless guy", George presents his story on Friday, March 20 at 7:30 PM and Sabbath, March 21 at 3:00 PM at Ozark Adventist Academy (20997 Dawn Hill East Rd., Gentry, AR 72734). Although he was born without arms, he has taught himself to play guitar, electric bass and piano. He sings and plays music from his heart — using his feet! Come be inspired by this amazing testimony of victory despite seemingly unconquerable odds and circumstances!

The Gospel According to Genesis

They say history repeats itself. The Bible proves it. Everything you need to know about humanity is chronicled in colorful detail. Why do we do the things we do? Why do we choose the things we choose? Why do we prefer the forbidden fruit instead of the way of obedience? Genesis tells the story. It's the story of man running away. And God chasing after him to save him. It's the story of the Gospel of Jesus. And it can all be found in Genesis.
