WELCOME

We are all explorers by nature and Flagstaff is a natural fit as outdoor adventure is in our DNA. Located on the Colorado Plateau of northern Arizona at 7,000 feet elevation, Flagstaff is nestled at the base of the San Francisco Peaks and is a destination for all seasons and all types of adventurers. Depending on the time of year and your personal calling, your outdoor adventure could include world-class downhill skiing, hundreds of miles of scenic trails for hiking, biking and running, outdoor festivals from May to October, magnificent fall colors, or gazing at the stars – as Flagstaff is the first designated International Dark Sky City.

Flagstaff is the best of both worlds; after a day of exploring the many nearby national monuments and Grand Canyon National Park, experience a vibrant city at night. Enjoy one-of-a-kind local shops, art galleries, restaurants and eight award-winning craft breweries, many within walking distance in a historic downtown setting. And remember, Flagstaff is a 'Pledge for the Wild' city, so after you utilize the trails, be sure to donate to the cause so we can keep our wild places – wild. See page 3 or visit pledgewild.com to learn more.

For the history buffs and astrophiles, Flagstaff has a rich Lunar Legacy dating back to the early research and Moon landings of the Apollo missions. Much of the lunar mapping and science training for the famed NASA astronauts happened right here in Flagstaff, and that training and research continues today. Be sure to pick up a Lunar Landmarks Trail Map & Passport when you stop by our Visitor Center located at the historic train station on Route 66. And, make your way up to Lowell Observatory, the home of Pluto, to wonder at the array of telescopes fixed on celestial gems.

We invite you to turn the pages and start planning your uniquely Flagstaff vacation.

BEFORE YOU HIT THE ROAD, STOP BY THE STATION

The Flagstaff Visitor Center is located in the historic train station along the world-renowned Route 66. Want to know more about Flagstaff and must-see attractions? Our trained information specialists can make recommendations, offer directions and suggest itineraries. For added convenience, Red Rock State Park Passes as well as local bus passes may be purchased at the Visitor Center. Flagstaff-centric, Route 66 and train-themed souvenirs are available in the gift shop, and marvel at the model train replica of the town’s “Old Two Spot” as it makes its coin-operated journey around the gift shop. Open Monday-Saturday 8 a.m.-5 p.m., Sunday 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Closed Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year’s Day.

THE CITY OF 7 WONDERS
Envied by many, Flagstaff's backyard overflows with national parks and monuments. There are seven within 10 to 80 miles. Explore the depths of the Grand Canyon, peer through 800 year-old pueblo windows, and summit some peaks on your next adventure. Flagstaff's special wild places include the Coconino National Forest, San Francisco Peaks, Grand Canyon National Park, Sunset Crater Volcano National Monument, Wupatki National Monument, Walnut Canyon National Monument and Oak Creek Canyon. discoverflagstaff.com/cityof7wonders

WORLD'S LARGEST CONTIGUOUS PONDEROSA PINE FOREST
Flagstaff sits at 7,000 feet above sea level (2,134 meters) surrounded by the largest contiguous Ponderosa pine forest in the world. One of the Southwest's tallest trees, Ponderosa pines can grow to incredible heights of 200 feet or more with trunks 4 feet wide. Find them at elevations of 6,000-8,000 feet above sea level where they form nearly pure stands covering tens of thousands of acres. fs.usda.gov/coconino

HIGHEST POINT IN ARIZONA
Humphreys Peak, the tallest of the San Francisco Peaks, is the highest point in Arizona at 12,633 feet above sea level (3,851 meters). It is followed in elevation by three other major peaks: Agassiz, Fremont and Doyle. They are the remains of an ancient volcano within the San Francisco Volcanic Field—an area boasting more than 600 volcanoes fifty miles west and east of town. Marvel at these geologic wonders with a scenic drive and hike at Sunset Crater Volcano National Monument. nps.gov/sucri

WHERE WORLD-CLASS ATHLETES TRAIN
Flagstaff-trained athletes from numerous countries have earned more than 276 Olympic and Paralympic medals. Flagstaff has a long history as an altitude training site going back to when elite athletes discovered Flagstaff in the 1960s as they prepared for the altitude-based 1968 Olympics in Mexico City. discoverflagstaff.com/highaltitudetraining

MOON-WALKING ASTRONAUTS TRAIN IN FLAGSTAFF
Every Apollo astronaut, including the 12 men who walked on the Moon, received science training in Flagstaff. Many other contributions to NASA's Apollo Program occurred in the area during the 1960s-1970s including instrument development, lunar rover field testing and lunar mapping. Astronaut science training continues here today for the men and women of NASA's Artemis Program destined for future Moon missions. discoverflagstaff.com/lunarlegacy

WORLD'S FIRST DARK SKY CITY
The International Dark-Sky Association named Flagstaff the World's First International Dark Skies City. Protecting the night sky from light pollution supports human health and heritage, preserves wildlife habitat, saves money, and provides visual access to celestial discovery for Flagstaff's scientific research facilities such as Lowell Observatory. flagstaffdarkskies.org / lowell.edu

ADJACENT TO THE COUNTRY'S LARGEST NATIVE AMERICAN GOVERNED LANDS
Flagstaff is located near the Navajo Nation which extends 27,425 square miles—the largest area of Native American governed lands in the country. Native peoples have continuously inhabited the Colorado Plateau—the region surrounding The Four Corners area where the states of Arizona, Utah, Colorado and New Mexico meet—for approximately 12,000 years, and include the Hopi, Navajo, Zuni, Hualapai, Havasupai, Ute, Apache and Southern Paiute. Each tribe has a distinct history, culture and language. Visit the Museum of Northern Arizona to best experience the art and culture of the region’s native peoples. musnaz.org

14 MILES OF ORIGINAL ROUTE 66
Cruise Route 66 and look back in time at iconic buildings, some still lighted with vintage neon signs. Enjoy the sights of historic hotels lining Route 66 in Flagstaff, as well as the world-famous Museum Club. Originally a Route 66 roadhouse, museum and taxidermy shop, the Museum Club continues to be a Route 66 landmark. discoverflagstaff.com/route66

PLEDGE WILD LIKE A LOCAL
Flagstaff is a participant of Pledge for the Wild, a multi-mountain town platform that is defining a shared set of common values, language and tools to support responsible tourism in wild places. TRAVEL SAFETY GUIDELINES DURING COVID-19

As the world continues to adjust to new conditions of COVID-19, please call your lodging provider or the attraction/amenity you plan to visit to learn how they are adjusting. Please adhere to required CDC healthcare travel guidelines, business recommendations and hours. To learn about current CDC and local guidelines, visit flagstaffarizona.org/blog/traveladvisories.

PACKING FOR 7,000 FEET

At high altitude, the sun is more intense and the weather can change quickly. Pack an assortment of layered clothing, a jacket, footwear appropriate for the season, sunscreen, sunglasses and a hat. If you plan to visit during the cooler months, include a fleece or flannel shirt, warm pants, winter coat, hat, gloves, scarf and snow boots.

WINTER RECREATION MUSTS

With more than 100 inches of snowfall annually in the city, Flagstaff is designated Arizona’s Official Winter Wonderland. But before you pull on your boots and load up the snowplay equipment, consult the Flagstaff Winter Recreation Snowplay Map to find official designated snowplay areas. The map is available at the Flagstaff Visitor Center or by download at discoverflagstaff.com/winter. For up-to-date snow travel information, call the Snowplay Information Hotline at 844.256.SNOW.

FIRE RESTRICTIONS

Please be fire aware and visit firerestrictions.us/az before making plans to camp in the forest. During the dry summer months, fire restrictions may be put into place to restrict campfires and other activities that potentially could cause a catastrophic wildfire.

LEAVE NO TRACE

While in the forest, properly dispose of all waste including food scraps and toilet paper, or take it with you when you leave. Learn the Seven Principles of Leave No Trace by visiting LNT.org and keep our forests healthy.

See pages 78-79 for more valuable visitor resources.

REMEMBER TO HUG-A-TREE

The Hug-A-Tree rabbit reminds you that while enjoying the forest, mountains and the beautiful but quickly changing weather, be sure to:

1. Tell someone where you are going and when you expect to return.
2. Hug-A-Tree (stay put!) should you become lost.
3. Always carry the Ten Essentials in your pack with a charged cell phone and battery charger:

- plenty of water
- food and energy snacks
- extra clothing
- map and compass/GPS
- headlamp or flashlight
- first aid kit
- shelter material or space blanket
- spare batteries for GPS/flashlight
- pocket knife or multi tool
- whistle or signal mirror

When back country exploring during winter, add these essentials:

- shovel
- avalanche beacon
- extra pair of warm socks and gloves

1919 S. Lone Tree Rd. | nau.edu/ceramics

☐ MONUMENTS AND SCULPTURES

The V-12 Memorial honors those who served in the United States armed forces during World War II, and recognizes the role the V-12 Navy College Training Program played in keeping the university open through the war years. The memorial is located in the North Quad, in front of Old Main.

In 1995, NAU commissioned sculptor and alumnus R.C. Gorman to design and build the Navajo Code Talkers Monument, a dedication to the 400 Navajo marines who used their native language as a code to transmit messages in the Pacific Theater. The monument is located on the north side of the Blome Building, 523 S. Knoles Dr.

Upon entering Cline Library, visitors will see the limestone and bronze sculpture, “1996: The Year of Science,” (pictured above) created by Budapest artist Peter Parkanyi Raab during his appointment as an NAU visiting artist.

Other NAU works of art are featured on the self-guided Flagstaff Public Art Tour. (See page 20.)

Northern Arizona University sits at the base of the San Francisco Peaks, on homelands sacred to Native Americans throughout the region. We honor their past, present, and future generations, who have lived here for millennia and will forever call this place home.
WINTER RECREATION

☐ ARIZONA SNOWBOWL

Fresh snow, crisp blue skies, and views to the Grand Canyon and beyond. At Snowbowl, winter is more than just a season—it’s an invitation to see Arizona from a brand new perspective. NAVAJO NATION TRIBAL PARKS

LAKE POWELL NAVAJO TRIBAL PARK AND ANTELOPE CANYON
These world-renowned slot canyons are a treasured experience for any traveler. The Navajo name for Upper Antelope Canyon is Tse’ bighanilini, which means “the place where water runs through rocks.” Upper Antelope is about 4,000 feet elevation and the canyon walls rise 120 above the streambed. Lower Antelope Canyon is Hasdestwazi, or "spiral rock arches." Guided tours are available year-round.

BE A FLAGSTAFF FOODIE

Charming, eclectic and forest-to-table experiences favorably describe Flagstaff’s restaurants. Resourceful chefs and talented culinary minds are in full-force creating menu items for shared plates or simple goodness experiences meant to be devoured by oneself. There’s dedication to sourcing local ingredients, some of which may have been foraged from the forest just miles from the restaurant.

Sustainability-minded restaurant owners are further mobilized with a plan for the environment by implementing sustainable practices to conserve energy and offer healthier, animal-friendly and plant-based options for their customers. Some, such as Criollo Latin Kitchen and Brix Restaurant & Wine Bar, give back by donating a portion of their proceeds towards a small farm local loan program.

FLAGSTAFF’S AWARD-WINNING CRAFT BREWERIES

Long known as a craft beer town and bestowed the credential of "Leading Craft Beer City" by Arizona's Governor Doug Ducey, Flagstaff’s award-winning craft breweries continue to grow their laundry list of accolades. Recently, Mother Road Brewery was awarded the "Foodist Award for Top Arizona Brewery" by the Arizona Restaurant Association. There are seven additional award-winning breweries to be enjoyed and all are featured on the Flagstaff Brewery Trail which was recently recognized in Food + Travel Magazine. The Flagstaff Brewery Trail is self-guided and once completed, a commemorative beer glass is awarded as a souvenir. Find the Flagstaff Brewery Trail Passport & Map on pages 68-69.

Home to the state’s first legal distillery, Canyon Diablo Spirits has grown to include vodkas, gin and an award-winning whiskey. Meadery fans can also rejoice at Drinking Horn Meadery offering those searching for a sweeter fermented authentic Arizona-made beverage.

The Heart & Soul of Flagstaff Is Downtown

They say go where the locals are...historic downtown and the Southside Historic District are certainly those hubs of activity. Offering an abundance of eclectic dining options, art galleries, boutiques, outdoor outfitters, craft breweries, First Friday ArtWalk, summer Movies on the Square, self-guided walking tours and a brewery trail...let's just say plans to visit the 1890s downtown area is an itinerary must. Located within the blocks north and south of the Flagstaff Visitor Center on historic Route 66.

HIGH COUNTRY HOSPITALITY

From mountain glamorous to cozy bed and breakfasts inns to campsites, Flagstaff can suit your travel style. Locations are convenient to interstates, the Grand Canyon National Park and monuments, university campus, historic downtown, and all are within the city’s expansive and world’s first officially designated Dark Sky Community.

Accommodations are new, some are historic and can be found along the city’s famed Mother Road, Route 66.

You can choose whether comfy Adirondack chairs are a needed amenity or perhaps that 24-hour business center is essential. In either case, bring binoculars to see wildlife, pack a portable telescope to look at constellations, and be prepared for fresh mountain air and a great night’s rest!

Families are always welcomed...and that means, in some instances, pets are welcomed, too. Yes, we are a dog-gone friendly city with accommodations, restaurants and breweries with patios, trails and parks welcoming obedient and leash-wearing buddies.

A growing number of the city's ecofriendly accommodations are implementing the practice of Sustainability Management. Programming includes employee awareness and involvement, managing sustainability goals, and reporting sustainable practices. To learn more about the ecotourism efforts being made, visit discoverflagstaff.com/ecotourism.
