

Bibliography of Resources Regarding Dyslexia

July 2015

Compiled by: Michael Hart, Ph.D.

Note: Last year, I compiled a bibliography that corresponded to a series of training modules about dyslexia that I created for a school district. Many people found it incredibly helpful so I'd like to share this with you. It is, of course, not an exhaustive list because that is impossible...However, there is something here for everyone whether you're a parent, specialist or educator.

There are also links that are relevant for beginner, intermediate and advanced dyslexia expertise. All of these links are rich troves of information. Those that I especially recommend are noted in red.

I do hope you find this useful. There is nothing proprietary about this list so please feel free to share with others. And, as always, if you have questions please ping me at doctormichaelhart@gmail.com.
