Description

WHO WE ARE

Michael Baker International is a global leader in Engineering, Architecture and Consulting services dedicated to developing and implementing innovative solutions to the world's infrastructure and environmental challenges. Supported by more than 6,000 employees in 90 offices worldwide, we provide a full continuum of life-cycle engineering consulting, specialized global construction, base operations, Green Infrastructure, security management, intelligence solutions, and environmental planning. Our company prides itself on building strong client partnerships, working with residents, businesses, developers, educational and medical organizations, state and local governments, the military and other federal agencies to successfully plan the future of their communities or institutions. At Michael Baker International, we focus on people and places, improving communities and creating more sustainable, convenient, equitable, healthful, efficient, and attractive places.

CULTURAL RESOURCES MANAGEMENT PRACTICE

Our Cultural Resources Management practice, embedded under our Environmental Planning practice, performs a diverse array of cultural resources services for a wide spectrum of federal, state, and local agency clients, as well as private organizations. We provide archaeological and architectural history services that include California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) and National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) environmental compliance projects.

JOB DESCRIPTION

The primary functions of a Cultural Resources Specialist is to prepare proposals, conduct archaeological research, records searches, monitoring, survey, testing, data recovery, excavation, CEQA/NEPA/Section 106 technical report preparation and review, and CEQA/NEPA environmental document cultural and tribal cultural resources sections preparation. The position requires strong research and writing skills and working with MS Word and Adobe. Travel for field survey will be required throughout California.

PROFESSIONAL REQUIREMENTS

- Best candidate will have a Master's Degree in Anthropology (or related field) and meet the Secretary of Interior Professional Qualification Standards for archeology
- 5+ years of experience in Cultural Resources Management field archaeology.
- Knowledge of federal and state laws that apply to archaeology.
- Excellent analytical skills and exceptional technical writing ability.
- Capable of working in both an office and field environment.
- Able to communicate through all contemporary business mediums (i.e., email, telephone, video conferencing)

- Attention to detail, organization, and ability to follow instructions.
- A valid California driver's license.
- Ability to travel throughout California.
- Candidate can office out of any of our offices in southern California
