

Mrs. Rebecca Wainer Dies at Age of 93

Mrs. Rebecca Wainer, 93, widow of Israel Wainer, and mother of two retired Army colonels, died this morning at the Bichor Cholem Home for Jewish Aged, 209 Washington Street, which she helped to found many years ago. She had been ill six weeks.

Surviving are six children, Col. Max R. Wainer, USA, retired, of Philadelphia; Col. Perry Wainer, USA, retired of Santa Ana, Calif.; Mrs. Joseph Freedman, Belmar, N. J.; Mrs. Albert Shanken, Chicago; Isaac, Townsend, and Louis J. Wainer of Lancaster, Pa., 19 grandchildren, and 20 great grandchildren. Her husband died 25 years ago.

Mrs. Wainer was one of the founders of the home and of the former synagogue. She was a member of Adash Kodesch Congregation and was active in its organization until she was taken ill. She was a member of the Hebrew Charities here.

The funeral will take place from the Chandler Funeral Home, Delaware Avenue and Jefferson Street, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Rabbi Leonard Gewitz, spiritual leader of Adas Kodesch Synagogue, will officiate. Interment will be in the Jewish section of Lombardy Cemetery.

Mack Gives Illustrated Talk on Memorial Span

W. W. Mack of the State Highway Department, gave an illustrated talk on the Delaware River Memorial Bridge at the first fall meeting of the Wilmington Chapter of the Phi Delta Theta Alumni Club last night at the University Club. Hugh M. Figgatt, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker. About 30 members of the club attended.

The speaker at the next meeting of the club on Nov. 1, will be Dr. Charles R. Kase of the University of Delaware.
