There is usually space for two to three large suitcases behind the last row of seats in each car on most long-distance trains. Furthermore, on many shinkansen trains, the leg room is large enough to place a suitcase in front of you, although this may not be the most comfortable solution.

According to JR regulations, each passenger may bring up to two pieces of luggage onto trains, not including smaller bags. Each piece of luggage may not weight more than 30kg, and its three dimensions (length, width, and depth) may not add up to more than 250cm, while its length may not exceed 200cm.
