Give Users a Product They'll Love

Your users expect easy communication with others on your platform. Authentic connection between users increases engagement, delights users, and ultimately protects the investments you've made in building your core product and earning users. Without in-app chat users take conversations from your app to third-party platforms or, worse, abandon your platform altogether.

Very few apps give users a reason to return. Did you know:

of app users abandon an app after just one use.

71%

of users will have churned within three months of download

With CometChat You Can

- ✔ Focus on what you do best: We'll release new features, layer on security, and ensure scalability for your integrated chat, while your team builds your core product.
- ✔ Integrate with your existing stack: Our Extensions Marketplace allows you to integrate with the technology solutions you already use and configure features to suit your users' needs.
- ✔ Build with confidence: With a robust set of SDKs, UI Kits, APIs, and even a no-code widget, developers of any skill level can ship a custom chat solution.
- ✔ Deploy in the cloud or on prem: Gain greater control over security and meet regional security requirements with our flexible deployment.
- ✔ Leave it to the experts: Leverage our 100+ developers, support representatives, and product experts whose sole focus is user-to-user communication.

Built for Developers

"The API docs are just really, really good."

Rob Gelb
CEO, HeySummit

*"Implementation was quite straightforward.
In less than a week, testing was complete."*
