Just a short intro

HISTORY

It all started in Philadelphia back in 1994 with Web 1.0. Handcrafting websites in a text editor with tables and a handful of hacks.

Today we are looking forward to the potential of Web 3.0 with technologies such as digital ledgers and Machine Learning.

FUTURE

BUILD1NG INNØVATION$

SINCE 1994

Our work is the result of full collaboration & teamwork of ~100 international minds.

OUR FOUNDER

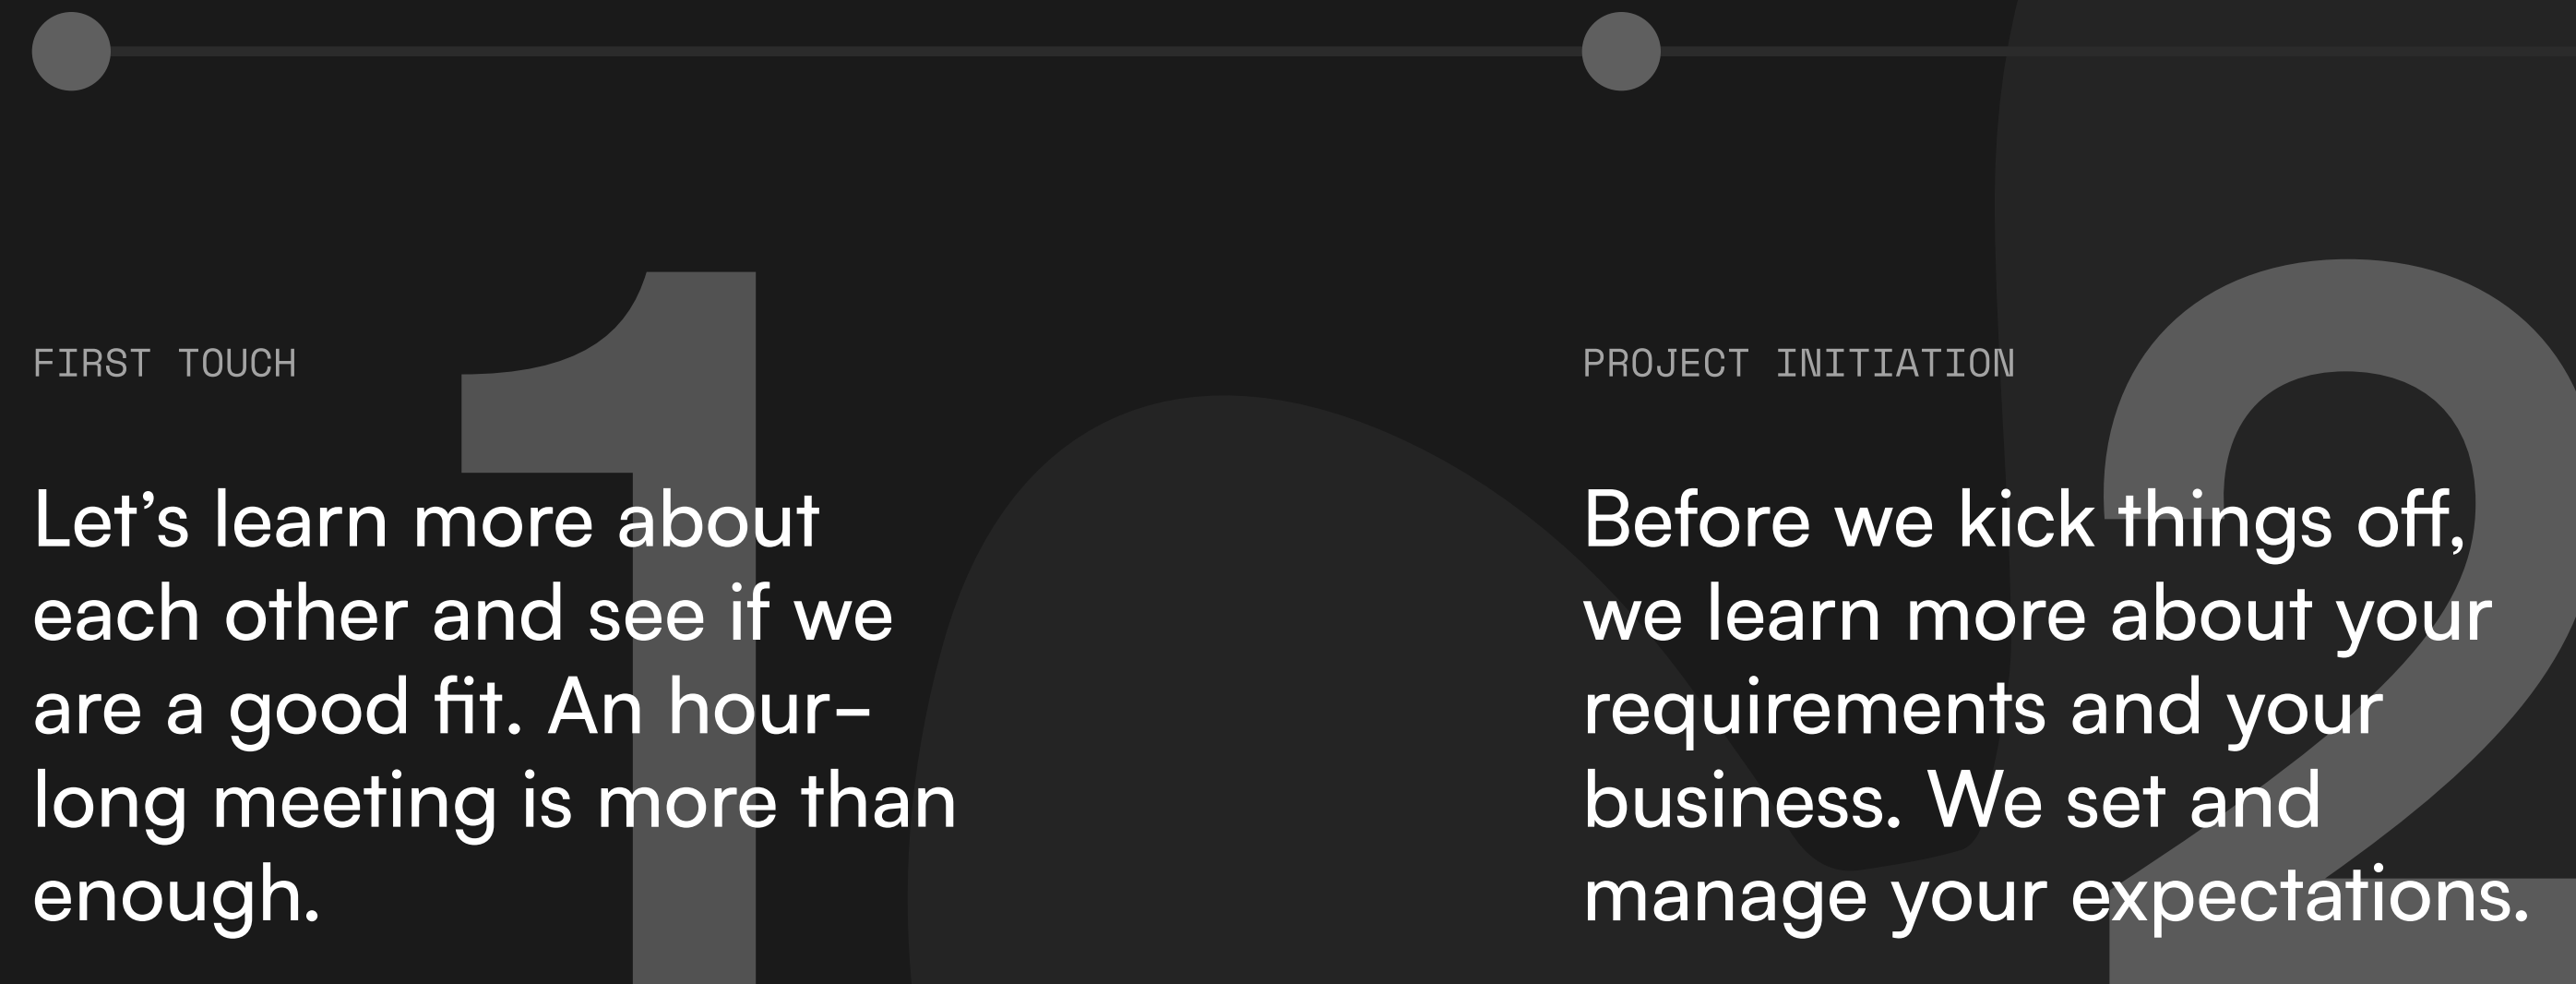

Hello, I'm Ezra, the art-school-kid-turned-agency-CEO behind LucidCircus.

I bought my first work computer in 1994 with the goal of becoming a graphic designer.

Flash forward two decades, and I run LucidCircus from my home base in Prague, and my team is flung across the globe.

How do we work?

TESTING

High quality is embedded in everything we do. Whether it's a design project or a mobile application, we have a rigorous QA process in place.

SUPPORT AND NEW GOALS

We strive to build long-lasting relationships. After our initial project is done, we continue to be fully available to you or your team for ongoing support and to grow together.

“

LucidCircus creates whatever I need on time, on budget, and of a quality that is representative of the brand.

They handle the build and maintenance of my website, deal with any technical issues, maintenance issues, and upgrades, and just do anything I need to do on my site, including newsletters and SEO. They can do it all.

They're also extremely responsive. If I ask a question at night, the answer is waiting for me in the morning. Their customer service is great, and they don't nickel and dime me asking questions. They're a resource there to help.

I was instantly impressed.”

David Grew
Founder of Primr

As a nontechnical first time founder bootstrapping a SaaS startup, I was not prepared to bring on an internal team for software development. When I met with LucidCircus I was instantly impressed by their keen ability to listen and learn, and also define the guardrails to guide product development through the earliest stages.

They stand out for their kindness, patience and lack of arrogance when dealing with a nontechnical person. As we grew, I began to understand how they built PRIMR to be scalable from the start, saving me money and time. All this while navigating the complex regulatory environment of HIPAA privacy protections. I highly recommend!

How we've helped clients

The digital patient education platform for clinical trials

PRIMR

After the application launch, a six-month data analysis revealed positive trends in patient engagement. Emails and SMS with secured links had a 73% open rate, and 64% of users watched at least 90% of the video content. Digital patient engagement saved time for doctors. Future plans include enhancing functionalities for doctors and patients and assessing patient self-efficacy and motivation in using the PRIMR platform.

Life-changing educational and supportal program for kids

Child Mind Institute

We formed a dedicated team as an extension of the Child Mind Institute's digital team, leading to increased traffic, higher donations during their year-end appeal, website expansion, and support for routine operations and special projects. This approach resulted in significant cost savings for CMI, as they didn't have to hire full-time staff, and our team can adapt to their changing needs.

Redesign and a port from Drupal 7 to WordPress

Guideposts

After conducting an initial mapping audit, it became evident that optimizing the infrastructure was essential to deliver an optimal user experience due to numerous custom fields, post types, and taxonomies. Astra was selected as the theme for its high performance and customizability, and Elementor was chosen as the preferred page builder for its maturity and ability to reduce DOM size and CPU load through custom code options.
