How we work with your team

We keep things clear, fast, and human. Learn more about how we work so you know what to expect from day one.

Simple, transparent collaboration

Work with a team that answers fast, keeps you in the loop, and makes collaboration easy. You get a dedicated Slack channel with quick responses, a weekly or bi weekly meeting to review progress and shape the roadmap, and a shared task board in Notion so you can see exactly what is happening at any time. Simple, transparent, and built around your team.

Flexible Communication

- ✓ We create a dedicated Slack channel for you. Ask us questions, share files, and reach out anytime. We usually respond in under 5 minutes. If you want to hop on a call, easily start a huddle!
- ✓ If Slack is not your thing, we can create a SMS group chat or use email. You can also text Jake or Ryan directly. Whatever works best for you.

Weekly (or Bi-Weekly) Meetings

- ✓ Once you are onboarded, we schedule a weekly meeting throughout the development cycle.
- ✓ We review progress, demo the product, collect feedback, and collaborate with your team.

Shared Task Board

- ✓ We set up your Notion client portal with tasks, links, documentation, and product info.
- ✓ One place to see what were working on, our progress, and timelines with full transparency.

"Jake and Ryan are a dynamic duo of development brilliance. They have implemented both consumer facing campaigns and backend platforms for PizzaForno at breakneck speed. Cannot say enough positive things about them and Modall."

Les Tomlin

President & Co-Founder, PizzaForno

"I can honestly say that I have never worked with a better front end development team than Modall. We wholeheartedly knew that the whole platform, from the user experience, UI/UX and the front end components were just completely handled by Ryan and the team over at Modall and that we would be able to kind of work side by side and the communication was constant and at all times seamless, professional and effective. I could not speak highly enough about the whole experience with Modall."

Callum Toner

Head of Engineering, NMT Investment Platform

"I can't say enough about my positive experience with Modall. What truly set them apart was the level of personal attention, especially from Jake, who was always available to help, even working after hours and answering texts and calls around the clock. Their team is not only professional and highly skilled but also genuinely friendly and dedicated to ensuring their clients are taken care of. I'm so grateful for their hard work. I highly recommend Modall!!!"
