Managed Service Provider Solutions

ALLEGIS GLOBAL SOLUTIONS

Realize the Full Potential of Your Extended Workforce

Today's contingent workers and their suppliers, freelancers and services providers offer the capabilities and flexibility companies need in an uncertain economy. Unfortunately, many organizations engage flexible workers through disconnected channels and relationships. Such siloed engagement limits business performance and leads to persistent business challenges:

- Managers cannot access all available workers and suppliers, limiting their ability to achieve the right talent mix for their needs.
- Rates may vary, resulting in high costs for talent.
- Inconsistent processes create worker misclassification risks.
- Companies struggle to control talent quality and lack data to improve performance.

MSP: A Path to a Flexible Workforce Advantage

Managed service provider (MSP) solutions bring the management of distributed resources, channels of activity and costs into a single program. The approach can transform how you engage workers and their suppliers, manage spend and get work done.

Boost Access to Talent
Get the most from your supplier network. AGS connects you to all sourcing channels, and our direct sourcing capability expands your options for fulfilling select assignment types.

Improve Visibility
Compare data from multiple sources. Track supplier performance. Ease of use and smart data supports decisions for a best-fit, right-cost strategy — all in one view through AGS' Acumen® Workforce Intelligence Platform.

Enhance Compliance
AGS provides expertise to help you stay ahead of worker classification, data protection and privacy, and employment law developments.

Control Costs
Apply a consistent cost structure across your extended workforce supply chain. Our data platform and management process deliver the right resources, at the right rates, giving you every advantage to optimize spend.
