litmus

Never send another broken email with Litmus Email Guardian

Protect your emails—and your brand—with Litmus Email Guardian.

Yesterday's perfectly tested email is not guaranteed to be error-free today

Email clients change all the time, without notice, and each change puts your emails and templates at risk of breaking and resulting in a poor subscriber experience.

300,000+

There are more than 300,000 different ways each email can display based on the email client, device, and reading environment (like Dark Mode).

Source: Litmus, Why is email rendering so complex?

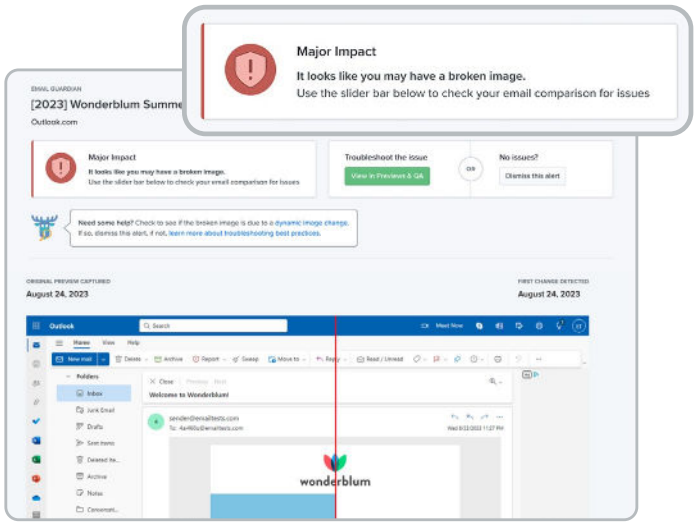

1.2 days

On average, the most popular email email clients collectively make an update the equivalent to every 1.2 days.

Source: Litmus, How Often Do Mobile Email Apps Update?

Only Litmus Email Guardian can keep watch over your emails at all times

- Gain peace of mind with just one click
  Activate Email Guardian on an email and we'll keep a close watch over your email to ensure it remains pixel perfect and ready to drive results.
- Keep a pulse on automated emails and templates
  Start monitoring all of your automated sends and frequently used email templates to ensure your core email resources will result in exceptional subscriber experiences, every time.
- Be the first to know when email client updates put your brand experience at risk
  We'll ensure you're the first to know when an unexpected email client change impacts the way your subscribers experience your email—and your brand.

Get started today! Email hello@litmus.com and our team will be happy to assist you.