akoova

K-Hosting for supreme ecommerce brands

What if your hosting provider valued your time?

While serving as Retail CTO, our founder, Osvaldo Spadano, could not rely on the existing hosting providers. It was clear that they didn't appreciate their clients' time.

Their support was always too reactive, with time-wasting ticketing systems. The downtime, lack of scalability and constant fire-fighting became a perpetual headache.

Osvaldo started Akoova in 2013 to create a supreme Magento & Adobe Commerce hosting solution.

One that genuinely cared about online retailers. One that was passionate about its clients' most valuable asset: time.

What if ... We didn't hide behind time-wasting ticketing systems?

What if ... You no longer waste time worrying about site demand due to our multiple scaling capabilities?

What if ... We saved you time by solving your problem before you knew you even had one?

What if ... We didn't commit you to lengthy, time-constrained contracts?

What if ... We eliminated time-wasting finger-pointing between development and operations?

What if ... Peace of mind attained from our smooth migration process gave you back your time?

What if we were not just another hosting provider?

Akoova provides K-Hosting, a fully-tailored and automated cloud platform for Magento & Adobe Commerce hosting of supreme ecommerce brands. The highly scalable platform, built on AWS, truly adds value to our clients. We enable growth via collaborative problem-solving and knowledge sharing, driven by our time-saving K-Working methodology

K-Hosting

Our supreme cloud platform for Magento & Adobe Commerce hosting is designed for the most demanding ecommerce sites. K-Hosting leverages AWS's best-in-class innovation, baking these technologies into the platform. These game-changing enhancements are then passed on to our supreme clients.

Due to our unique K-Working methodology, our platform continuously evolves by the application of knowledge from collaborative problem-solving.

K-Working

Our unique five-part working methodology sets us apart from the industry.

Our helpful and caring dedicated team live and breathe Magento by collaborating with clients in real-time to solve problems, thereby saving our clients their valuable time.

The knowledge we gain serves as the profound intelligence to our K-Hosting platform.
