

Marketplace

Post to your choice of 25,000+ job boards in a single transaction.

JobTarget's Marketplace is one of our top time-savers, making job advertising simple and efficient, with access to the largest network of job sites on one platform. Manage where you post your ads and reach the most talented candidates on multiple job sites simultaneously. Our network includes general, niche, diversity, and industry-specific job sites.

“JobTarget's Marketplace is a great tool for one-stop advertising. They have an extensive list of publications/vendors in their database and if one isn't listed that you are looking for, the staff will research and add it to the list.”

Choose from over 25,000 job sites to post your ads. No matter your industry, location, or hiring needs, we have the job boards you need. Not sure where to post an open role? JobTarget offers quality recommendations and unique bundles based on historical performance data.

Advertise the way you want, in one platform. We integrate with 25+ HR software systems and offer several ways to customize your recruiting experience so you can advertise and review candidates in one convenient place. You can even automatically import and distribute jobs based on presets you've decided on with your dedicated account rep, eliminating the need to spend any time at all on advertising.

Client-focused relationships build trust. Not sure where to start? Our recruitment experts are available to guide you to the best approach to get the best candidates. If you have job sites you use often, our Media Services team is available to help with contract negotiations (and to save you money).
