SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR AGGREGATING AND PROVIDING AUDIO AND VISUAL PRESENTATIONS VIA A COMPUTER NETWORK

RELATED APPLICATIONS

[001] This application claims priority of United States Patent Application Serial Nos. 61/090,673 entitled: CONTENT, TRAFFIC AND ADVERTISING ENGINE, SYSTEM AND METHOD; 61/090,680 entitled: SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR AGGREGATING AND PROVIDING AUDIO AND VISUAL PRESENTATIONS VIA A COMPUTER NETWORK; 61/090,678 entitled: CONTENT, TRAFFIC AND ADVERTISING ENGINE, SYSTEM AND METHOD; 61/090,688 entitled: SYSTEM AND METHOD OF VALIDATING CONTENT, TRAFFIC AND ADVERTISING IN A COMPUTING APPLICATION AND ENGINE; 61/090,681 entitled: DYNAMIC READ THROUGH DATA COLLECTION AND AD DELIVERY SYSTEM AND METHOD OF SAME; 61/090684 entitled: SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR TRAFFIC IN A CONTENT AND ADVERTISING ENGINE; and 61/090,672 entitled: System and Method for Providing and Tracking the Provision of Audio and Visual Presentations via a Computer Network, all having common inventor Tod C. Turner; and each of which is incorporated herein by reference as if set forth in its respective entirety herein.

FIELD OF THE INVENTION

[002] The present invention relates generally to the provision of information, and more particularly to the provision of informational, entertainment, educational, business and other audio and/or audio/visual presentations via a computer network.

BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION

[003] The Internet is a global network connecting millions of computers and linking users in more than 100 countries into exchanges of data, news and opinions. Unlike online services, which are centrally controlled, the Internet is decentralized. Each Internet enabled computer is independent, such that its user can choose which Internet services to use and which local services to make available to the global Internet community.

[004] There are many types of content available via the Internet, including textual content, graphical content, audio content and video content. The amount of content available via the Internet is virtually unlimited. Accordingly, it can prove difficult for a user of an Internet enabled computer to identify and locate content of a particular type and relating to a particular subject.

[005] A popular solution to finding desired content is to use a publicly available search engine. A search engine searches documents for specified keywords and returns a list of documents where the keywords were found. Typically, a search engine utilizes a webcrawler to provide documents. An indexer then typically reads the webcrawler provided documents and creates an index based on the words contained in each document. Each search engine typically uses its own methodology to create indices such that, ideally, only meaningful results are returned for each query. This is not always true though due to the complex nature and nuances of human language and efforts by document authors or providers to fool or trick the indexer into ranking its documents above those of others. Examples of conventional search engines include those made available via www.yahoo.com, www.google.com and www.search.com, all by way of non-limiting example only.

[006] Accordingly, there is a need for a system and method of using the Internet as a global network to unite people with common interests. Such a system and method may be used as productivity tools for business, and to educate and entertain consumers.

SUMMARY OF THE PREFERRED EMBODIMENTS

[007] A method for providing content via a computer network and computing device, the method including: storing data associated with a plurality of audio/visual presentations; storing data indicative of the plurality of audio/visual presentations so as to be associated with the stored data associated with the plurality of audio/visual presentations; receiving a request to host an audio presentation via the computer network from the computing device; receiving data associated with the requested audio presentation via the computer network from the computing device; storing the received data associated with the requested audio presentation; initiating a

[008] A method for providing content via a computer network and computing system, the method including: storing data associated with a first plurality of presentations using the computer system; storing data indicative of the first plurality of presentations so as to be associated with the stored data associated with the first plurality of presentations using the computer system; storing data associated with a plurality of feeds using the computer system, wherein each of the feeds provides a corresponding second plurality of presentations being accessible via the computer network, and no data indicative of the second plurality of presentations is stored using the computing system; automatically and periodically accessing each of the feeds to identify each of the provided second plurality of presentations, using the computer system; and aggregating each of the first and identified second pluralities of presentations for delivery via the computer network using a common web page.

[009] A computer program product being embodied in at least one computer readable medium and for providing content from a computer system via a computer network to a computer device, the product including: code for storing data associated with a first plurality of presentations using the computer system; code for storing data indicative of the first plurality of presentations so as to be associated with the stored data associated with the first plurality of presentations using the computer system; code for storing data associated with a plurality of feeds using the computer system, wherein each of the feeds provides a corresponding second plurality of presentations being accessible via the computer network, and no data indicative of the second plurality of presentations is stored using the computer system; code for automatically and periodically accessing each of the feeds to identify each of the provided second plurality of presentations, using the computer system; code for storing data associated with a third plurality of presentations, wherein data indicative of the third plurality of presentations is not stored using the computer system; and code for aggregating each of the first, identified second and third pluralities of presentations for delivery via the computer network using a common web page.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE PREFERRED EMBODIMENTS

[0020] For non-limiting purposes of explanation only, “computer,” as referred to herein, refers to a general purpose computing device that includes a processor. “Processor,” as used herein, refers generally to a device including a Central Processing Unit (CPU), such as a microprocessor. A CPU generally includes an arithmetic logic unit (ALU), which performs arithmetic and logical operations, and a control unit, which extracts instructions (e.g., code) from memory and decodes and executes them, calling on the ALU when necessary. “Memory,” as used herein, refers to one or more devices capable of storing data, such as in the form of chips, or other medium like magnetic or optical discs. Memory may take the form of one or more random-access memory (RAM), read-only memory (ROM), programmable read-only memory (PROM), erasable programmable read-only memory (EPROM), or electrically erasable programmable read-only memory (EEPROM) chips, by way of further non-limiting example only. Memory may be internal or external to an integrated unit including the processor. Memory may be internal or external to the computer. Such memory may store a computer program, e.g., code or a sequence of instructions being operable by the processor. Such a computer may include one or more data inputs. Such a computer may include one or more data outputs. The code stored in memory may cause the processor, when executed by the processor, to set an output to a value responsively to a sensed input.

[0021] One type of computer executable code typically stored in memory so as to be executable by an Internet enabled computer is a browser application. For non-limiting purposes of explanation only, "browser application" or "browser," as used herein, generally refers to computer executable code used to locate and display web pages. Commercially available browsers are Microsoft Internet Explorer, Netscape Navigator, Apple Safari, Google Chrome and Firefox, which all support text, graphics and multimedia information, including sound and video (sometimes through browser plug-in applications). "Plug-in," as used herein, generally refers to computer executable code that adds a specific feature or service to a larger system, in the case of a browser plug-in, the browser application.

[0022] The terms "computer," "computer device" and/or "computer system" as used herein may generally take the form of single computing devices or collections of computing devices having a common operator or under common control.

[0023] According to certain embodiments of the present invention, content may be aggregated for presentation to users. According to certain embodiments of the present invention, audio content may be aggregated for presentation to users. According to certain embodiments of the present invention, video content may be aggregated for presentation to users. According to certain embodiments of the present invention, audio and video content may be aggregated for presentation to users.

[0024] Referring now to Fig. 1, there is shown a block diagram of a system of networked computers 10. The illustrated system 10 includes a plurality of user computers 20, a plurality of network server computers 30 and a network 40 interconnecting computers 20, 30 together.

[0025] Illustrated system 10 includes personal computing devices 22 and a personal digital assistant computer/web-enabled cell phone computer 24 by way of non-limiting example only. Communication links 26 communicatively couple devices 20 with network 40. Links 26 may take the form of wired and/or wireless communications links, including fiber optic, POTS, DSL, cable and/or multiple access or GSM based wireless telephony or data communications systems, for example. Network 40 may include portions of proprietary and service provider networks, as well as the Internet, for example. Illustrated system 10 includes a database server 32, a content or web server 34 and a file server 36, all by way of non-limiting example only. Communication links 26 communicatively couple devices 30 with network 40 as well. "Server", as used herein, generally refers to a computing device communicatively coupled to a network and that manages network resources. A server may refer to a discrete computing device, or may refer to an application that is managing resources rather than the entire computing device.

[0026] Referring now also to Fig. 2, there is illustrated a web page 200 according to an embodiment of the present invention. Web page 200 may be provided to computers 20 by computers 30 via network 40. Illustrated web page 200 aggregates audio and/or video content for presentation to users of computers 20.

[0027] Referring still to Fig. 2, the particularly illustrated web page 200 includes a category selector 205, a ranking selector 210, a new content indicator 215, a content type indicator 220, a page selector 225, particular content graphics 230, particular content type indicators 235 and particular content information 240 organized under a browser tab 245. Web page 200 may take other forms and/or different content as is conventionally achieved in the pertinent arts.

[0028] Particular content graphics 230, particular content type indicators 235 and particular content information 240 are organized to indicate individual presentations. In the illustrated embodiment, presentations 265, 270, 275, are respectively shown. A user may select such a presentation for display by selecting an individual presentation for streaming or downloading, such as by clicking on an indicator 235, 240 or 245. For non-limiting purposes of explanation, "streaming," as used herein, generally refers to a technique for transferring data such that it can be processed as a substantially steady or continuous stream and a user's browser or plug-in can start presenting the data before the entire file has been transmitted. For non-limiting purposes of explanation, "downloading," as used herein, generally refers to a technique for transmitting data (e.g., an entire data file) between computers, such as between file server 36 (Fig. 1) and a computing device 22 (Fig. 1). In certain embodiments of the present invention, a commercially available content (e.g., audio and/or video podcast) delivery application, such as the Flash product available from Adobe Systems Inc., may be used to provide selected presentations to users' computers 20 (Fig. 1).

[0029] Referring still to Figs. 1 and 2, a user of a device 20 may request page 200 from content server 34 using a browser application in a conventional manner. Server 34 may provide page 200 to the requesting computer 20 in a conventional manner, optionally using database server 32 to populate page 200, for example.

[0030] In certain embodiments of the present invention, when a user selects a category in selector 205, content server 34 may request database server 32 identify which presentations should be used to populate page 200 according to the selected category. Server 34 may then provide such a populated page 200 to the requesting user computer 20. Examples of categories that may be included and selected using selector 205 include art, autos and vehicles, bloggers and people, celebrity gossip, comedy, education, gadgets, health, how to and DIY, legal, music, news, and pets and animals, for example. By selecting one of these categories, a user may receive pages 200 populated with content according to the selected category.

[0031] In certain embodiments of the present invention, when a user selects a ranking in indicator 210, content server 34 may request database server 32 identify which presentations should be used to populate page 200 according to the selected ranking. Server 34 may then provide such a populated page 200 to the requesting user computer 20. Examples of rankings that may be included and selected using indicator 210 include most recent presentations and most popular presentations, for example. By selecting one of these rankings, a user may receive pages 200 populated with content according to the selected ranking.

[0032] In certain embodiments of the present invention, a user may select a populated presentation (e.g., 265, 270 or 275, Fig. 2). In response thereto, server 34 may request file server 36 either stream or download the selected presentation to the requesting user's computer 20, such as via a web page 200 in a conventional manner.

[0033] Referring now to Fig. 3, there is shown a view of web page 200 when tab 250 is selected. In the illustrated embodiment of Fig. 3, web page 200 includes a text box 255 and search button 260 under tab 250. In certain embodiments of the present invention, when tab 250 is selected, text box 255 and search button 260 may be presented on the user's computer 20 by server 34. A user may enter a search term into window 255 in a conventional manner. A user may then activate search button 260 in a conventional manner. Responsively thereto, content server 34 may request database server 32 identify which presentations should be used to populate page 200 according to the entered search term(s). Server 34 may then provide such a populated page 200 to the requesting user computer 20.

[0034] As will be appreciated by those possessing an ordinary skill in the pertinent arts, there are a number of ways to aggregate and provide content using web page 200.

[0035] In certain embodiments of the present invention, users may be permitted to directly upload and enter information regarding content, e.g., to file server 36 (Fig. 1). In certain embodiments of the present invention, users may be permitted to link presentations housed elsewhere in memory so as to be accessible to a computer 20 (Fig. 1) via network 40 (Fig. 1) – essentially registering them with database server 32 (Fig. 1). In certain embodiments of the present invention, presentations may be created using computers 20, 30. And, in certain embodiments of the present invention, presentations housed elsewhere in memory so as to be accessible to a computer 20 (Fig. 1) via network 40 (Fig. 1) may be automatically linked to – essentially registering them with database server 32 (Fig. 1).

[0037] At block 415, the logged on user requests to upload content, e.g., by interacting in a conventional manner with web page 200. This request is provided to computers 30 via network 40. At block 420, computers 30 request information regarding the content to be uploaded. In certain embodiments, the requested information may include a content title, date, series information and description, akin to that to be displayed in a corresponding indicator 240 (Figs. 2, 3). The request may further include a file identifier and location of the content indicative file to ultimately be uploaded. This request may be communicated to the user's computer 20 via network 40.

[0039] At block 430, computers 30 indicate the received information is suitable for use and confirms the content may be uploaded. This indication is provided to the user's computer 20 via network 40. At block 435, the user's computer transmits the content to computers 30 via network 40, e.g., performs a file upload in a conventional manner. The content is received by computers 30 at block 440. In certain embodiments of the present invention, content transmitted and received at blocks 435, 440 may take the form of media file suitable for use as a podcast, for example. Such a file may be received by server 34 for example, and provided to server 36 for storage 450 and later retrieval for downloading and/or streaming pursuant to a user's interaction with webpage 200 (Figs. 2, 3), for example. In such a case, server 32 may associate the stored content indicative information provided at block 425 with the file stored at block 450.

[0040] Referring now also to Fig. 5, there is shown a flow diagram of a process 500 according to an embodiment of the present invention. Process 500 is suitable for permitting users to link presentations housed elsewhere in memory so as to be accessible to a computer 20 via network 40.

via network 40, in certain embodiments by serving a page 200 (Figs. 2, 3) to the logged on user's computer 20.

[0042] At block 515, the logged on user requests to link or register content, e.g., by interacting in a conventional manner with web page 200. This request is provided to computers 30 via network 40. At block 520, computers 30 request information regarding the content to be linked. In certain embodiments, the requested information may include a content title, date, series information and description, akin to that displayed in a corresponding indicator 240 (Figs. 2, 3). The request may further include a file identifier and location of the content indicative file to be linked. This request may be communicated to the user's computer 20 via network 40.

[0045] Certain embodiments of the present invention may provide the ability to track the number of visitors to the platform of the present invention, and additionally the number of visitors per content via the platform of the present invention. Further, the number of pages viewed by each visitor may additionally be tracked, such as in a tabular format, and such information may be continuously updated for as long as a user remains on a given page, that is, for as long as a user continues to watch a particular show. For example, it may be determined when a user begins and ends listening to and/or watching a presentation, e.g., a podcast, for example. Where a selected presentation is streamed from computers 30, such an inquiry may be relatively simple, by confirming the content streaming is progressing as expected, for example. Where content is housed elsewhere and linked to by computers 30, such a direct inquiry may not be readily available though. Tracking may be performed, for example, via entry into one or more tables of database server 32 of timed data. At each expiration of a timer, such as every 15 seconds, a table entry may be made corresponding to the user, the page the user is on, and, to the extent the user is on the same page as was the user upon the last expiration of the timer, the user's total time, to the current time, spent on that same page. The user may be identified by, for example, any of a number of known methodologies, such as the information the user used to login, the user's IP address, the user's response to an identifying query, or the like.

[0046] Thus, certain embodiments of the present invention provide a capability to know that a viewer began viewing a particular show at a certain time, and when a user began viewing a different page, or show, thereby providing knowledge of how long a particular viewer spent on a particular page. Such knowledge is not conventionally available, and the provision of such knowledge by certain embodiments of the present invention allows for an increasing scale of payments for advertising displayed on a given page correspondent to how long a viewer or viewers remain, or typically remain, on that particular page or like pages. Thus, a tabular tracking of the present invention allows for the knowledge of how long a viewer spends on a page, what the viewer was viewing or listening to on the given page, the ads shown while the viewer was viewing or listening, how long the ads were shown, and what ads were shown to the view correspondent to that viewer's identification and/or login.

[0047] Referring now also to Fig. 6, there is shown a flow diagram of a process 600 according to an embodiment of the present invention. Process 600 is suitable for permitting users to create presentations, such as by hosting an audio show that may be recorded to create a podcast, using computers 20, 30.

[0048] Process 600 commences with a user providing log on information using a computer 20 at block 605, which is provided to computers 30 via network 40, in certain embodiments to server 34. Computers 30 log the user on at block 610, and communicate this status to the user via network 40, in certain embodiments by serving a page 200 (Figs. 2, 3) to the logged on user's computer 20.

[0049] At block 615, the logged on user requests to create content or host a show, e.g., by interacting in a conventional manner with web page 200. This request is provided to computers 30 via network 40. At block 620, computers 30 request information regarding the content to be created. In certain embodiments, the requested information may include a content title, date, series information and description, akin to that displayed in a corresponding indicator 240 (Figs. 2, 3). The request may further include a phone number at which the user may be reached. This request may be communicated to the user's computer 20 via network 40.

[0050] At block 625, the user provides at least a portion of the requested information, which is communicated to computers 30 via network 40. Some or all of the information provided may be screened or filtered or verified in conventional manners at block 630. In certain embodiments of the present invention, information provided at block 625 may be received and screened or filtered or verified at block 630 using web server 34. In certain embodiments of the present invention, the user's phone number may be checked to see if it is valid. All or a portion of that information may then be stored at block 635 using database server 32, for later use in populating web pages 200, for example.

[0051] At block 640, the requesting user indicates he would like to begin creating the presentation, e.g., by interacting in a conventional manner with web page 200. This indication is communicated to computers 30 via network 40. At block 645 computers 30 initiate a new presentation creation session. At block 650, a voice communications session between computers 30 and the user is commenced. In certain embodiments of the present invention, a telephone call may be automatically placed by computers 30 at block 650 to the phone number indicated at block 625.

[0052] Referring now to Fig. 7, there is shown a block diagram of a system of networked computers and telephones 700. Like system 10, illustrated system 700 includes personal computing devices 22 and a personal digital assistant/web-enabled cellular phone computer 24 by way of non-limiting example only. Communication links 26 communicatively couple devices 20 with network 40. Links 26 may take the form of wired and/or wireless communications links, including fiber optic, POTS, OSL, cable and/or multiple access or GSM based wireless telephony or data communications systems, for example. Network 40 may include portions of proprietary and service provider networks, as well as the Internet, for example. Illustrated system 10 includes a database server 32, a content or web server 34 and a file server 36, all by way of non-limiting example only. Communication links 26 communicatively couple devices 30 with network 40 as well.

[0053] System 700 additionally includes conventional telephone 705 associated with (as indicated by label 720) a particular computing device 22, e.g., by both corresponding to a given requesting user, for example. In the illustrated embodiment, phone 705 may be communicatively coupled to computers 30 independent of network 40 (e.g., via 725). In the illustrated embodiment, phone 705 may be communicatively coupled to computers 30 via network 40 (e.g., link 710). In certain embodiments of the present invention phone 705 may take the form of a POTS phones. In certain embodiments of the present invention phone 705 may take the form of a VoIP phone. In certain embodiments of the present invention, phone 705 may take the form of a cellular phone. In certain embodiments of the present invention, phone 705 is independent of the associated computer 22. In certain embodiments of the present invention, phone 705 may be communicatively coupled to computers 30 independent of any connection between the associated computer 22 and computers 30.

[0054] Referring still to Figs. 6 and 7, a requesting user may be called at block 650 by computers 30 placing a conventional telephone call to the phone number provided at block 625. Upon the call being answered using phone 705, a pre-recorded audio message indicating the content will be created may be played. Thereafter, the requesting user, or his designee for example, may speak into phone 705, thereby hosting a show, for example. Responsively thereto, computers 30 may digitize the spoken show and store a media file indicative of it (e.g., using file server 36), as indicated at block 655.

[0055] Information provided at block 625 and stored at block 635 may include identifications of intended audience members for the presentation, e.g., an audience for the show to be hosted. This additional information may be used at block 660 to initiate analogous telephone calls to those numbers as well. In this way, a phone audience may hear the show live at a plurality of locations. For non-limiting purposes of explanation, this is shown in Fig. 7 as phone 730, which is associated with computer 24 as designated by label 740.

[0057] In certain embodiments of the present invention, shows may be streamed analogously as described above as they are being recorded, for example.

[0058] It should further be understood such a content generation functionality provides additional advantages. For example, enhanced telephone conferences may be readily achieved according to certain embodiments of the present invention. Such enhanced conferences may exhibit an automatic dial out to conference attendees, including the host and audience. Such enhanced conferences may exhibit automatic recording and archival for later playback as a podcast, for example. Such enhanced functionalities may advantageously be achieved without the host having access to any particular resources other than a general purpose Internet enabled computer and a conventional telephone. Such enhanced functionalities may advantageously be achieved without the any audience member having access to any particular resources other than a conventional telephone. Accordingly, enhanced telephone conferencing may be readily achieved.

[0059] In certain embodiments of the present invention, certain portions of aggregated content may have access thereto restricted to authorized members. For example, information provided at blocks 425, 525 and/or 625 may include an authorized group identifier or content password. Such an identifier and/or password may be stored using database server 32. When a user seeks to playback such protected content, e.g., by interacting with web page 200 as set forth above, the user may need to log in (e.g., analogously to log in at blocks 405, 410, 505, 510, 605, 610) or provide the corresponding password. Where a group identifier is used, database server 32 may indicate what groups a logged in user is authorized for, so as to selectively permit access to protected content to authorized users. Such groups may, by way of non-limiting example only, include businesses and other private organizations.

[0060] Referring now also to Fig. 8, there is shown a flow diagram of a process 800 according to an embodiment of the present invention. Process 800 is suitable for automatically aggregating and linking to presentations housed elsewhere in memory so as to be accessible to a computer 20 (Fig. 1) via network 40 (Fig. 1) – essentially registering them with database server 32 (Fig. 1).

[0061] Syndication of Internet content is becoming more commonplace. Really Simple Syndication (“RSS”) is a family of Internet feed formats used to publish content that may be frequently updated, such as podcasts (RSS 2.0). RSS utilizes a standardized format. An RSS document (sometimes referred to as a “feed,” “web feed” or “channel”) typically contains either a summary of content from an associated web site or the full text.

[0062] An RSS may itself be used to aggregate content from multiple web sources in one place. RSS content is typically accessed using an RSS reader application. Such an application may be a thin, web-page based application or a downloaded application executed on a user’s computer (e.g., 20, Fig. 1). RSS feeds may typically be subscribed to by entering or selecting the feed’s link using the reader. The RSS reader typically checks the user’s subscribed feeds for new content at predetermined intervals, downloads updates, and provides a user interface to monitor and view the feeds.

[0063] Embodiments of the present invention will be discussed with regard to RSS 2.0 feeds for non-limiting purposes of explanation only. It should be recognized that embodiments of the present invention may be suitable for use with other types of content (e.g., audio/video) feeds.

[0064] Referring again to Fig. 8, process 800 commences with a user providing log on information using a computer 20 at block 805, which is provided to computers 30 via network 40, in certain embodiments to server 34. Computers 30 log the user on at block 810, and communicate this status to the user via network 40, in certain embodiments by serving a page 200 (Figs. 2, 3) to the logged on user's computer 20.

[0065] At block 815, the logged on user requests to link an RSS feed, e.g., by interacting in a conventional manner with web page 200. This request is provided to computers 30 via network 40. At block 820, computers 30 request information regarding the content to be created. In certain embodiments, the requested information may include a content title, series information and description, akin to that displayed in a corresponding indicator 240 (Figs. 2, 3). The request may further include RSS feed identification and/or access information through which the feed may be accessed. This request may be communicated to the user's computer 20 via network 40.

[0066] At block 825, the user provides at least a portion of the requested information, which is communicated to computers 30 via network 40. Some or all of the information provided may be screened or filtered or verified in conventional manners at block 830. In certain embodiments of the present invention, information provided at block 825 may be received and screened or filtered or verified at block 830 using web server 34. In certain embodiments of the present invention, the feed identifier and/or access information may be checked to see if it is valid. All or a portion of that information may then be stored at block 850 using database server 32, for later use in populating web pages 200, for example. At block 850, the feed may further be accessed to acquire information regarding and/or either links to or the feed content itself then present. All of this information may be automatically aggregated using computers 30 in accordance with the methods described herein-above with regard to Figs. 4 and/or 5, where the feed information (e.g., RSS associated XML data) is used in lieu of user provided information.

The date and time when content is automatically acquired via such a registered RSS feed may also be stored at block 850 using computers 30, e.g., database server 32.

[0067] At block 855, computers 30 may determine if new content exists for one or more feeds stored at block 850. This may be accomplished in any of a number of conventional manner, including periodically checking when the feed was last updated and/or the content available there-through to data stored at block 850. When new or changed content is found, the data stored at block 855 may be appended or amended to reflect the new content.

[0068] It should further be understood such a content acquisition provides additional advantages. For example, each user wishing to identify and view content available via an RSS feed may conventionally need to obtain and operate an RSS reader application. Further, each such RSS reader application would need to access each identified RSS feed. This leads to substantial bandwidth usage, for example. In contrast, certain embodiments of the present invention permit a user to access RSS content without the need for his own RSS reader. Further, embodiments of the present invention only require that system 30 access each RSS feed, as opposed to each system 30 user computer 20 wishing to access the RSS feeds, leading to substantial savings in network resources. Further, certain embodiments of the present invention allow user to access and compare content available via RSS feeds they are not even aware of, e.g., by their interaction with webpage 200 as discussed above, where webpage 200 includes content added using the methodology of process 800, for example. Accordingly, certain embodiments of the present invention provide for enhanced content syndication and aggregation, as compared to even RSS feeds themselves, for example. And, certain embodiments of the present invention provide for automatic aggregation of RSS feed content in combination with non-RSS feed content in a single application independent of any user RSS reader application.

[0069] Those of ordinary skill in the art may recognize that many modifications and variations of the present invention may be implemented without departing from the spirit or scope of the invention. Thus, it is intended that the present invention covers the modifications and variations of this invention provided they come within the scope of the appended claims and their equivalents.

PROTECTING YOUR INVENTION OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

Since the rights granted by a U.S. patent extend only throughout the territory of the United States and have no effect in a foreign country, an inventor who wishes patent protection in another country must apply for a patent in a specific country or in regional patent offices. Applicants may wish to consider the filing of an international application under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT). An international (PCT) application generally has the same effect as a regular national patent application in each PCT-member country. The PCT process simplifies the filing of patent applications on the same invention in member countries, but does not result in a grant of "an international patent" and does not eliminate the need of applicants to file additional documents and fees in countries where patent protection is desired.

Almost every country has its own patent law, and a person desiring a patent in a particular country must make an application for patent in that country in accordance with its particular laws. Since the laws of many countries differ in various respects from the patent law of the United States, applicants are advised to seek guidance from specific foreign countries to ensure that patent rights are not lost prematurely.

Applicants also are advised that in the case of inventions made in the United States, the Director of the USPTO must issue a license before applicants can apply for a patent in a foreign country. The filing of a U.S. patent application serves as a request for a foreign filing license. The application's filing receipt contains further information and guidance as to the status of applicant's license for foreign filing.

Applicants may wish to consult the USPTO booklet, "General Information Concerning Patents" (specifically, the section entitled "Treaties and Foreign Patents") for more information on timeframes and deadlines for filing foreign patent applications. The guide is available either by contacting the USPTO Contact Center at 800-786-9199, or it can be viewed on the USPTO website at <http://www.uspto.gov/web/offices/pac/doc/general/index.html>.

For information on preventing theft of your intellectual property (patents, trademarks and copyrights), you may wish to consult the U.S. Government website, <http://www.stopfakes.gov>. Part of a Department of Commerce initiative, this website includes self-help "toolkits" giving innovators guidance on how to protect intellectual property in specific countries such as China, Korea and Mexico. For questions regarding patent enforcement issues, applicants may call the U.S. Government hotline at 1-866-999-HALT (1-866-999-4258).

LICENSE FOR FOREIGN FILING UNDER
Title 35, United States Code, Section 184
Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, 5.11 & 5.15

GRANTED

The applicant has been granted a license under 35 U.S.C. 184, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" followed by a date appears on this form. Such licenses are issued in all applications where the conditions for issuance of a license have been met, regardless of whether or not a license may be required as set forth in 37 CFR 5.15. The scope and limitations of this license are set forth in 37 CFR 5.15(a) unless an earlier license has been issued under 37 CFR 5.15(b). The license is subject to revocation upon written notification. The date indicated is the effective date of the license, unless an earlier license of similar scope has been granted under 37 CFR 5.13 or 5.14.

This license is to be retained by the licensee and may be used at any time on or after the effective date thereof unless it is revoked. This license is automatically transferred to any related applications(s) filed under 37 CFR 1.53(d). This license is not retroactive.

The grant of a license does not in any way lessen the responsibility of a licensee for the security of the subject matter as imposed by any Government contract or the provisions of existing laws relating to espionage and the national security or the export of technical data. Licensees should apprise themselves of current regulations especially with respect to certain countries, of other agencies, particularly the Office of Defense Trade Controls, Department of State (with respect to Arms, Munitions and Implements of War (22 CFR 121-128)); the Bureau of Industry and Security, Department of Commerce (15 CFR parts 730-774); the Office of Foreign Assets Control, Department of Treasury (31 CFR Parts 500+) and the Department of Energy.

NOT GRANTED

No license under 35 U.S.C. 184 has been granted at this time, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" DOES NOT appear on this form. Applicant may still petition for a license under 37 CFR 5.12, if a license is desired before the expiration of 6 months from the filing date of the application. If 6 months has lapsed from the filing date of this application and the licensee has not received any indication of a secrecy order under 35 U.S.C. 181, the licensee may foreign file the application pursuant to 37 CFR 5.15(b).

The request for Power of Attorney filed 06/16/2014 is acknowledged. However, the request cannot be granted at this time for the reason stated below.

- ☐ The Power of Attorney you provided did not comply with the new Power of Attorney rules that became effective on June 25, 2004. See 37 CFR 1.32.
- ☐ The revocation is not signed by the applicant, the assignee of the entire interest, or one particular principal attorney having the authority to revoke.
- ☐ The Power of Attorney is from an assignee and the Certificate required by 37 CFR 3.73(c) has not been received.
- ☐ The person signing for the assignee has omitted their empowerment to sign on behalf of the assignee.
- ☐ The inventor(s) is without authority to appoint attorneys since the assignee has intervened as provided by 37 CFR 3.71.
- ☐ The signature(s) of _____, a co-inventor in this application, has been omitted. The Power of Attorney will be entered upon receipt of confirmation signed by said co-inventor(s).
- ☐ The person(s) appointed in the Power of Attorney is not registered to practice before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office.
- ☐ Only one Customer Number can be designated for the Power of Attorney in an application. The Customer Number that was captured is the first Customer Number provided on the Power of Attorney document.

- ☐ A request under 37 CFR 1.48 to add an inventor was granted in this application, however, no power of attorney consistent with the power of attorney granted by the originally named inventive entity has been received. Thus, the addition of the inventor has resulted in the loss of power of attorney in the application. See 37 CFR 1.32(e).
- ☒ The power of attorney has not been accepted because the party who is giving power of attorney has not been identified. Power of attorney may only be signed by the applicant for patent (37 CFR 1.42) or the patent owner. A patent owner who was not the applicant must appoint any power of attorney in compliance with 37 CFR 3.71 and 3.73. See 37 CFR 1.32(b)(4).
- ☐ The power of attorney from the inventors has not been accepted because it is a copy from a prior national application for which benefit is claimed and the continuing application names an inventor who was not named as an inventor in the prior application.
- ☐ The power of attorney from the inventors has not been accepted because the power of attorney must be signed by the applicant for patent. See 37 CFR 1.32(b)(4).
- ☒ Any request to correct or update the name of the applicant must include an application data sheet (ADS) in compliance with 37 CFR 1.76 specifying the correct or updated name of the applicant in the applicant information section. PROTECTING YOUR INVENTION OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

Since the rights granted by a U.S. patent extend only throughout the territory of the United States and have no effect in a foreign country, an inventor who wishes patent protection in another country must apply for a patent in a specific country or in regional patent offices. Applicants may wish to consider the filing of an international application under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT). An international (PCT) application generally has the same effect as a regular national patent application in each PCT-member country. The PCT process simplifies the filing of patent applications on the same invention in member countries, but does not result in a grant of "an international patent" and does not eliminate the need of applicants to file additional documents and fees in countries where patent protection is desired.

Almost every country has its own patent law, and a person desiring a patent in a particular country must make an application for patent in that country in accordance with its particular laws. Since the laws of many countries differ in various respects from the patent law of the United States, applicants are advised to seek guidance from specific foreign countries to ensure that patent rights are not lost prematurely.

Applicants also are advised that in the case of inventions made in the United States, the Director of the USPTO must issue a license before applicants can apply for a patent in a foreign country. The filing of a U.S. patent application serves as a request for a foreign filing license. The application's filing receipt contains further information and guidance as to the status of applicant's license for foreign filing.

Applicants may wish to consult the USPTO booklet, "General Information Concerning Patents" (specifically, the section entitled "Treaties and Foreign Patents") for more information on timeframes and deadlines for filing foreign patent applications. The guide is available either by contacting the USPTO Contact Center at 800-786-9199, or it can be viewed on the USPTO website at <http://www.uspto.gov/web/offices/pac/doc/general/index.html>.

For information on preventing theft of your intellectual property (patents, trademarks and copyrights), you may wish to consult the U.S. Government website, <http://www.stopfakes.gov>. Part of a Department of Commerce initiative, this website includes self-help "toolkits" giving innovators guidance on how to protect intellectual property in specific countries such as China, Korea and Mexico. For questions regarding patent enforcement issues, applicants may call the U.S. Government hotline at 1-866-999-HALT (1-866-999-4258).

LICENSE FOR FOREIGN FILING UNDER
Title 35, United States Code, Section 184
Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, 5.11 & 5.15

GRANTED

The applicant has been granted a license under 35 U.S.C. 184, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" followed by a date appears on this form. Such licenses are issued in all applications where the conditions for issuance of a license have been met, regardless of whether or not a license may be required as set forth in 37 CFR 5.15. The scope and limitations of this license are set forth in 37 CFR 5.15(a) unless an earlier license has been issued under 37 CFR 5.15(b). The license is subject to revocation upon written notification. The date indicated is the effective date of the license, unless an earlier license of similar scope has been granted under 37 CFR 5.13 or 5.14.

This license is to be retained by the licensee and may be used at any time on or after the effective date thereof unless it is revoked. This license is automatically transferred to any related applications(s) filed under 37 CFR 1.53(d). This license is not retroactive.

The grant of a license does not in any way lessen the responsibility of a licensee for the security of the subject matter as imposed by any Government contract or the provisions of existing laws relating to espionage and the national security or the export of technical data. Licensees should apprise themselves of current regulations especially with respect to certain countries, of other agencies, particularly the Office of Defense Trade Controls, Department of State (with respect to Arms, Munitions and Implements of War (22 CFR 121-128)); the Bureau of Industry and Security, Department of Commerce (15 CFR parts 730-774); the Office of Foreign Assets Control, Department of Treasury (31 CFR Parts 500+) and the Department of Energy.

NOT GRANTED

No license under 35 U.S.C. 184 has been granted at this time, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" DOES NOT appear on this form. Applicant may still petition for a license under 37 CFR 5.12, if a license is desired before the expiration of 6 months from the filing date of the application. If 6 months has lapsed from the filing date of this application and the licensee has not received any indication of a secrecy order under 35 U.S.C. 181, the licensee may foreign file the application pursuant to 37 CFR 5.15(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 112(b):

(b) CONCLUSION.—The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the inventor or a joint inventor regards as the invention.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 112 (pre-AIA), second paragraph:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 10 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112(b) or 35 U.S.C. 112 (pre-AIA), second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the inventor or a joint inventor, or for pre-AIA the applicant regards as the invention. The limitation of "...and no indicative of the second plurality of presentations is stored using the computing system" is unclear and indefinite with the invention. Applicants do not point out clearly which options include in the present invention by these terms. Any ordinary skill in the art would fail to understand the meets and bounds of the claim limitations. Applicant should clarify and claim the subject matter as regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 2455

4. Claims 11-12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112(b) or 35 U.S.C. 112 (pre-AIA), second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the inventor or a joint inventor, or for pre-AIA the applicant regards as the invention. The limitation of “storing data associated...and not storing data indicative of the third plurality of presentations” is unclear and indefinite with the invention. Applicants do not point out clearly which options include in the present invention by these terms. Applicant should clarify and claim the subject matter as regards as the invention.

Any ordinary skill in the art would fail to understand the meets and bounds of the claim limitations. Hence, these limitations with these ambiguous terms are indefinite with the present application. The examiner will interpret these terms and limitations with the regarding claim as best understood for applying the appropriate art for rejection purposes.

Appropriate correction is needed to overcome the rejection.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory double patenting rejection is appropriate where the claims at issue are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van

Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the reference application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement. A terminal disclaimer must be signed in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(b).

The USPTO internet Web site contains terminal disclaimer forms which may be used. Please visit <http://www.uspto.gov/forms/>. The filing date of the application will determine what form should be used. A web-based eTerminal Disclaimer may be filled out completely online using web-screens. An eTerminal Disclaimer that meets all requirements is auto-processed and approved immediately upon submission. For more information about eTerminal Disclaimers, refer to <http://www.uspto.gov/patents/process/file/efs/guidance/eTD-info-I.jsp>.

5. Claims 10-13 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 of U.S. Patent No. 8,700,731. Although the claims at issue are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of pre-AIA 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6. Claims 10-13 are rejected under pre-AIA 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Daniel J. Cooley (US Patent 8,386,588) hereafter Cooley.

7. As per claim 10, Cooley discloses a method for providing content via a computer network and computing system, the method comprising: storing data associated with a first plurality of presentations using the computer system; storing data indicative of the first plurality of presentations so as to be associated with the stored data associated with the first plurality of presentations using the computer system; storing data associated with a plurality of feeds using the computer system, wherein each of the feeds provides a corresponding second plurality of presentations being accessible via the computer network, and no data indicative of the second plurality of presentations is stored using the computing system (col. 1 lines 29-54, col. 5 lines 16-45, col. 7 lines 13-38 and 55-col. 8 lines 16); automatically and periodically accessing each of the feeds to identify each of the provided second plurality of presentations, using the computer system; and aggregating each of the first and identified second pluralities of presentations for delivery via the computer network using a common web page (col. 4 lines 42-col. 5 line 24, col. 5 lines 46-62, col. 9 lines 24-67, col. 11 lines 2-66, col. 13 lines 2-34).

Art Unit: 2455

8. As per claim 11, Cooley discloses the method further comprising: storing data associated with a third plurality of presentations, and not storing data indicative of the third plurality of presentations wherein the presenting at least a portion of the stored data associated with aggregating the presentations for selection by the computing device further includes aggregating the first, second and third pluralities of presentations (col. 9 lines 24-67, col. 10 lines 46-67, col. 11 lines 2-66, col. 13 lines 2-34).

9. As per claim 12, Cooley discloses a computer program product being embodied in at least one non-transitory computer readable medium and for providing content from a computer system via a computer network to a computer device, the product comprising: code for storing data associated with a first plurality of presentations using the computer system; code for storing data indicative of the first plurality of presentations so as to be associated with the stored data associated with the first plurality of presentations using the computer system; code for storing data associated with a plurality of feeds using the computer system, wherein each of the feeds provides a corresponding second plurality of presentations being accessible via the computer network, and no data indicative of the second plurality of presentations is stored using the computer system (col. 1 lines 29-54, col. 5 lines 16-45, col. 7 lines 13-38 and 55-col. 8 lines 16); code for automatically and periodically accessing each of the feeds to identify each of the provided second plurality of presentations, using the computer system; code for storing data associated with a third plurality of presentations, wherein data indicative of the third plurality of presentations is not stored using the computer system; and code for aggregating each of the first, identified second, and third pluralities of presentations for delivery via the computer network using a common web page (col. 4 lines 42-col. 5 line 24, col. 5 lines 46-62, col. 9 lines 24-67, col. 11 lines 2-66, col. 13 lines 2-34).

10. As per claim 13, Cooley discloses the product wherein the computer system comprises at least one web server, at least one database server and at least one file server (col. 4 lines 42-col. 5 line 24, col. 9 lines 24-67, col. 10 lines 46-67, col. 11 lines 2-66, col. 13 lines 2-34).

Conclusion

11. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

REMARKS

Applicant thanks Examiner Huq for her thorough review of the application papers, considering the IDS references of record, and opinion on patentability.

Claims 10-13 are pending in the application. Applicant respectfully requests reconsideration in view of the amendments and remarks herein.

Double Patenting

Claims 10-13 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-9 of U.S. Patent 8,700,731. A Terminal Disclaimer is being filed herewith to overcome this rejection.

Response to Rejections Under 35 USC §112

Claims 10 and 12 were rejected under 35 USC §112(b) or 35 USC §112 (pre-AIA), second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the inventor or a joint inventor, or for pre-AIA the applicant regards as the invention. Applicant respectfully submits that the amendments made herein overcome the examiner's rejection.

Claims 11 and 12 were rejected under 35 USC §112(b) or 35 USC §112 (pre-AIA), second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which the inventor or a joint inventor, or for pre-AIA the applicant regards as the invention. Applicant respectfully submits that the amendments made herein overcome the examiner's rejection.

Response to Rejections Under 35 USC §102

Claims 10-13 were rejected under pre-AIA 35 USC §102(e) as being anticipated U.S. Patent 8,386,588 (“Cooley”). Applicant respectfully traverses and requests reconsideration and withdrawal of this rejection.

Claim 10 as amended recites “aggregating each of the first and second collections of presentations for delivery via the computer network using a common web page” and that the second collection of presentations are identified in a feed that does not include data representing the content of the second collection of presentations. Thus, claim 10 recites aggregating presentations in a feed and identifying presentations independent of any feed.

Cooley's teachings are limited to aggregation of an RSS feed and no aggregation of any content of the feed with any other presentations. Accordingly, claim 10 is allowable over Cooley. Claims 11-13 directly or indirectly recite language similar to that discussed above with respect to claim 10 and are therefore allowable over Cooley for at least the reasons given above with respect to claim 10.

Conclusion

In view of all of the above, applicant believes that all pending claims are in condition for allowance and earnestly requests that these claims be passed to issuance. If the Examiner believes that a telephone conversation would help to expedite prosecution, please call the undersigned attorney at the number below.

Respectfully Submitted,

Sean D. Burdick

Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 U.S.C. 154 (b) (Applications filed on or after May 29, 2000)

The Office has discontinued providing a Patent Term Adjustment (PTA) calculation with the Notice of Allowance.

Section 1(h)(2) of the AIA Technical Corrections Act amended 35 U.S.C. 154(b)(3)(B)(i) to eliminate the requirement that the Office provide a patent term adjustment determination with the notice of allowance. See Revisions to Patent Term Adjustment, 78 Fed. Reg. 19416, 19417 (Apr. 1, 2013). Therefore, the Office is no longer providing an initial patent term adjustment determination with the notice of allowance. The Office will continue to provide a patent term adjustment determination with the Issue Notification Letter that is mailed to applicant approximately three weeks prior to the issue date of the patent, and will include the patent term adjustment on the patent. Any request for reconsideration of the patent term adjustment determination (or reinstatement of patent term adjustment) should follow the process outlined in 37 CFR 1.705.

Any questions regarding the Patent Term Extension or Adjustment determination should be directed to the Office of Patent Legal Administration at (571)-272-7702. Questions relating to issue and publication fee payments should be directed to the Customer Service Center of the Office of Patent Publication at 1-(888)-786-0101 or (571)-272-4200.

3. Claims 10-13 are amended.
4. Claims 1-9 are canceled.
5. A Terminal Disclaimer was filed on 11/17/2015 and approved on 12/20/2015 for Patent Application 8,700,731, therefore, double patenting rejection is withdrawn.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed on 02/29/2016 regarding 35 USC 103(a) type rejections for claims 10-13 have been fully considered, and found persuasive. Therefore, previous 35 USC 103(a) type rejections are withdrawn.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR

Art Unit: 2455

1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Sean D. Burdick, Reg. No. 51,513 on May 11, 2016.

The amendment as follows:

Claim 10 (Currently Amended) A method for providing content via a computer network and computing system, the method comprising:

storing presentation data that represents content of a first collection of one or more presentations using the computer system;

storing data indicative of the first collection of presentations so as to be associated with the presentation data;

storing feed data that represents a collection of one or more feeds using the computer system, wherein each of the feeds identifies a corresponding second collection of one or more presentations being accessible via the computer network and includes no data representing content of the second collection of presentations;

automatically and periodically accessing each of the feeds to identify each of the corresponding second collection of presentations, using the computer system; storing data associated with a third collection of one or more presentations; and aggregating each of the first, ~~and~~ identified second, and third collections of presentations for delivery via the computer network using a common web page.

Claim 11 (Canceled)

Art Unit: 2455

Claims 12-13 (previously presented)

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

7. Claims 10, and 12-13 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The totality of each element(s) and/or step(s) in claims 10, and 12-13 are not alluded to in the combined prior arts of record. Their teachings either individually or in combination failed to teach or suggest the claimed limitations of: storing data indicative of the first collection of presentations so as to be associated with the presentation data; storing feed data that represents a collection of one or more feeds using the computer system, wherein each of the feeds identifies a corresponding second collection of one or more presentations being accessible via the computer network and includes no data representing content of the second collection of presentations; automatically and periodically accessing each of the feeds to identify each of the corresponding second collection of presentations, using the computer system; storing data associated with a third collection of one or more presentations; and aggregating each of the first, identified second, and third collections of presentations for delivery via the computer network using a common web page. The claims in the application are deemed to be directed to a nonobvious improvement over the prior art(s).

Accordingly, claims 10, and 12-13 are allowable over the prior arts rejections. Therefore, independent claim 10 is allowable, and claim 13 is allowable by virtue of its dependency upon independent claim 12, and also due to additional limitations recited in these claims.

Art Unit: 2455

However, the prior art of record fails to teach or suggest some of the steps of the present claim invention. Examiner performed an updated search and unable to find any prior art(s) to disclose all the steps mentioned in the independent claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

PROTECTING YOUR INVENTION OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

Since the rights granted by a U.S. patent extend only throughout the territory of the United States and have no effect in a foreign country, an inventor who wishes patent protection in another country must apply for a patent in a specific country or in regional patent offices. Applicants may wish to consider the filing of an international application under the Patent Cooperation Treaty (PCT). An international (PCT) application generally has the same effect as a regular national patent application in each PCT-member country. The PCT process simplifies the filing of patent applications on the same invention in member countries, but does not result in a grant of "an international patent" and does not eliminate the need of applicants to file additional documents and fees in countries where patent protection is desired.

Almost every country has its own patent law, and a person desiring a patent in a particular country must make an application for patent in that country in accordance with its particular laws. Since the laws of many countries differ in various respects from the patent law of the United States, applicants are advised to seek guidance from specific foreign countries to ensure that patent rights are not lost prematurely.

Applicants also are advised that in the case of inventions made in the United States, the Director of the USPTO must issue a license before applicants can apply for a patent in a foreign country. The filing of a U.S. patent application serves as a request for a foreign filing license. The application's filing receipt contains further information and guidance as to the status of applicant's license for foreign filing.

Applicants may wish to consult the USPTO booklet, "General Information Concerning Patents" (specifically, the section entitled "Treaties and Foreign Patents") for more information on timeframes and deadlines for filing foreign patent applications. The guide is available either by contacting the USPTO Contact Center at 800-786-9199, or it can be viewed on the USPTO website at <http://www.uspto.gov/web/offices/pac/doc/general/index.html>.

For information on preventing theft of your intellectual property (patents, trademarks and copyrights), you may wish to consult the U.S. Government website, <http://www.stopfakes.gov>. Part of a Department of Commerce initiative, this website includes self-help "toolkits" giving innovators guidance on how to protect intellectual property in specific countries such as China, Korea and Mexico. For questions regarding patent enforcement issues, applicants may call the U.S. Government hotline at 1-866-999-HALT (1-866-999-4258).

LICENSE FOR FOREIGN FILING UNDER
Title 35, United States Code, Section 184
Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, 5.11 & 5.15

GRANTED

The applicant has been granted a license under 35 U.S.C. 184, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" followed by a date appears on this form. Such licenses are issued in all applications where the conditions for issuance of a license have been met, regardless of whether or not a license may be required as set forth in 37 CFR 5.15. The scope and limitations of this license are set forth in 37 CFR 5.15(a) unless an earlier license has been issued under 37 CFR 5.15(b). The license is subject to revocation upon written notification. The date indicated is the effective date of the license, unless an earlier license of similar scope has been granted under 37 CFR 5.13 or 5.14.

This license is to be retained by the licensee and may be used at any time on or after the effective date thereof unless it is revoked. This license is automatically transferred to any related applications(s) filed under 37 CFR 1.53(d). This license is not retroactive.

The grant of a license does not in any way lessen the responsibility of a licensee for the security of the subject matter as imposed by any Government contract or the provisions of existing laws relating to espionage and the national security or the export of technical data. Licensees should apprise themselves of current regulations especially with respect to certain countries, of other agencies, particularly the Office of Defense Trade Controls, Department of State (with respect to Arms, Munitions and Implements of War (22 CFR 121-128)); the Bureau of Industry and Security, Department of Commerce (15 CFR parts 730-774); the Office of Foreign Assets Control, Department of Treasury (31 CFR Parts 500+) and the Department of Energy.

NOT GRANTED

No license under 35 U.S.C. 184 has been granted at this time, if the phrase "IF REQUIRED, FOREIGN FILING LICENSE GRANTED" DOES NOT appear on this form. Applicant may still petition for a license under 37 CFR 5.12, if a license is desired before the expiration of 6 months from the filing date of the application. If 6 months has lapsed from the filing date of this application and the licensee has not received any indication of a secrecy order under 35 U.S.C. 181, the licensee may foreign file the application pursuant to 37 CFR 5.15(b).
