Those who behold the Sacrament of the Eucharist, consecrated by the priest, but only see the appearances of bread and wine, and do not believe by the grace of the Spirit that these are really the Body and Blood of Christ, condemn themselves, since they do not believe the testimony of the Lord Himself who said, "This is my Body and Blood of the new covenant," and promises, "Whoever eats my Flesh and drinks my Blood has eternal life." And just as the Apostles, contemplating with the eyes of faith, believed that He was God, so too we, seeing with our bodily eyes the bread and wine, believe that the Most Holy Body and Blood are present, living and true, in the Eucharist. In this manner the Lord is always present in the midst of His faithful, just as He Himself promised when He said: "Behold, I am with you until the end of the world".

St. Francis of Assisi

Mike Maloney is an ardent student of Church teaching, Saints and History. He has been a regular speaker at Our Lady of Santa Clara Retreat Center and Catholic Men's Forum for eight years. Other topics of his talks have included Joan of Arc, the Jewish Roots of the Eucharist, Myths about the Crusades, Faith & Reason, the life of St. Joseph and How the Catholic Church Built Western Civilization. He and his wife Maria live with their two daughters in Willow Glen and are members of St. Christopher's Parish.
