Christmas 2018

In the mid-20th century, the American religion writer Marcus Bach wrote

The world is large and complex, and sometimes there seems to be no sacred ground. But in tent and palace, in adobe hut and castle, in barrack prison and under lighted trees across the lands, the language of Christmas is universal.

Of course, the world of our times is far larger and more complex than what he knew and loved. And yet our God is even larger and greater than our limited selves and even in the midst of the cacophony of our world, on December 25th the world stops to remember once again the birth of the Christ Child so many years ago in Bethlehem.

Come join your fellow parishioners in celebrating the birthday of Our Savior and Lord as we worship in faith, beauty, and joy.

Yours in Christ,
