Dr. Gary Chapman has been a marriage and relationship counselor of over 35 years and he shares the secrets to love that lasts. These truths aren't only applicable to engaged and married couple but also to parents and their children, to siblings and friends. They can be used to improve relationships both in our families and also in our workplace. In this video presentation, you will gain insight into your selves and into those close to you, providing some new tools to improve the quality of your relationships. We will have a personal questionnaire for you to complete at the end of the video.

What may speak volumes to you may be meaningless to your spouse, fiance, friend etc. But here is the key to understanding each other's unique needs. Apply the right principles, learn the right language, and soon you'll know the profound satisfaction and joy of being able to express your love--and feeling truly loved in return!
