

Who is SRECTrade?

USPV has merged with SRECTrade to provide a highly sophisticated SREC platform to its clients. Since 2008, SRECTrade has been one of the leading sources for information regarding SREC price trends and legislative updates, bringing a wealth of knowledge and transparency to some of the fastest growing state markets in the solar industry. SRECTrade is one of the largest SREC transaction and management firms in the industry, with over 375 MW of solar assets under management.

What will happen if I have a fixed price contract with USPV?

Your contract with USPV will be transferred over and remain the same with SRECTrade. You will continue to receive the same value for your SRECs.

Will my fees be changing?

For residential systems (under 50 kW), SRECTrade charges $2.50/SREC or 7%/SREC, whichever is greater. You can view SRECTrade's complete fee structure here. If you have a fixed price contract, the fee will remain the same.

What is the difference between USPV's and SRECTrade's sales preferences?

Please see below for the sales preference you had with USPV and how this may differ with SRECTrade. SRECTrade has two sales preferences to choose from - Managed Sales and Set a Limit.

Minimum Price

If you had a minimum price set in your USPV account, this will automatically be transferred over to your SRECTrade account as our Set a Limit program. We will not transact your SRECs until the market is trading at or above the minimum price set.

Quarterly Sales

Previously, your SRECs were transacted quarterly, and you were contacted asking if you wanted to transact in the current quarter. This sales preference will now be considered SRECTrade's Managed Sales. In Managed Sales, SRECTrade will automatically work to transact your SRECs at the best possible market price as they are issued. This means you could see transactions as frequently as every month. We will not reach out prior to making the sale. If you do not want transactions to occur automatically, please set a minimum price limit in your account higher than the current market value.

USPV Best

In this option, your SRECs were transacted at the discretion of USPV, typically once a year. This sales preference will now be transferred over as SRECTrade's Managed Sales. In Managed Sales SRECTrade will automatically work to transact your SRECs at the best possible market price as they are issued on the 1st of each month. This means you could see transactions as frequently as every month.

How do I know when SRECTrade has sold my SRECs?

Once we transact your SRECs, you will receive an email notice, and payment will be sent within 10 business days (14 calendar days) following the date of the email. You can also view the status of your payment in the Transactions tab of your facility in your SRECTrade account.

How will I get paid?

In our efforts to ensure that clients are paid as quickly and securely as possible, SRECTrade issues payments through direct deposit.
