About GRE

GRE is Graduate Record Exam. Conducted by ETS (Educational Testing Services).

Score - GRE score is on 340. (Max) (VR 170 QR 170). Min. score - 260. (VR 130 QR 130).

Scoring Pattern - The scoring is on a 1-point increment.

GRE score is valid for 5 years and a student is allowed to report score to 4 college without any charges.

To register for the exam: www.ets.org.

Exam Fee: 195 US Dollar. ($50 for each change - Venue or Date). The test is held at the Prometric centres, It is a Computer Adaptive Test, however within the section, it is Computer Based. There is "mark and review" feature within the section; the candidate has the opportunity to change/edit answers before exiting the section. There is an on-screen calculator for the QR section.

Eligibility: Working Professionals, Graduates & Undergraduates.

The test is conducted throughout the year, except on Sundays and National Holidays. The GRE score is required for admission into Master's and Ph.D. programs.

There are more than 1000+ B-School that accept GRE score for Management Course. These include Harvard, IE, INSEAD, MIT Sloan, Stanford, etc.

GRE preparation needs at least 3 months to get good score. A score 325+ score is considered a good score to apply at a renowned University.

The test pattern

Section	Skills Measured	Number of Questions	Time
Analytical Writing (1 section)	Critical thinking and analytical writing	1 "Analyze an Issue" task	30 min.
		1 "Analyze an Argument" task	30 min.
Verbal Reasoning (2 sections)	Reading comprehension, verbal and analytical reasoning	20 questions per section	30 min. per section
Quantitative Reasoning (2 sections)	Focuses on basic concepts of arithmetic, algebra, geometry and data analysis	20 questions per section	35 min. per section
Unscored*	—	Varies	Varies
Research	—	Varies	Varies

The GRE® Test is spread over three broad areas:

- Analytical Writing (AW): 1 hour test, consists of two topics: Issue & Argument. The two topics are followed by a question each and the test taker is asked to respond specifically to the question. The time limit for both the topics is 30 mins each. There is no choice of topics given with the Issue and Argument topic.
- Verbal Reasoning (VR) (2 sections): There are 2 VR sections with 20 questions each and a time limit of 30 mins each for each section. Antonyms and analogies questions have been removed from the test, so there are no questions that test vocabulary out of context. Sentence completion questions have been replaced by Text Completion questions, with the inclusion of a new type of question called Sentence Equivalence question.
- Quantitative Reasoning (QR) (2 sections): There are two QR sections of 20 questions each with a time limit of 35 mins for each section. There is increased emphasis on data interpretation and real-life scenarios. An on-screen calculator for use in this section reduces the emphasis on computation.

What is the admission process?

For most people who wish to study abroad, the admissions process can be one of the most challenging procedures that they face. It normally involves filling out basic information along with your academic transcripts, writing a statement of purpose (SOP) and reporting your GRE® Test and/or TOEFL® IBT scores. Additionally letters of recommendation from your teachers (if you are a student) or supervisors (if you are a working professional) are required. The admissions committee mainly bases its decision on your GRE® Test and TOEFL® IBT score and academic performance with the other paraphernalia carrying some significance.
