THANK YOU FROM OUR DIVISIONAL LEADERS

Lt. Colonel Doug Tollerud, Divisional Commander
Lt. Colonel Sheryl Tollerud, Divisional Director of Women's Ministries & Divisional Secretary for Program

Dear Friends of The Salvation Army,

As we continue to press on through the ongoing challenges in our nation and in our great state of Alaska, we are reminded that the work never ceases. We are called to be the hands and feet of God, serving all in need in our local communities and beyond.

With COVID-19 continuing to hamper our efforts to return to full normalcy, we are committed to continuing our mission to provide meal distribution, emergency shelter to families, Christmas gifts for children, and general support both spiritually and materially.

Because of caring donors and volunteers like you, we were able to serve over 83,000 Alaskans during 2020-2021. We are continually grateful and awed by the generous hearts and spirits of our fellow Alaskans who continue to give of their time and resources. Thank you for helping to impact the most vulnerable among us.

May God bless you,

Lt. Colonels Doug and Sheryl Tollerud

DONOR SPOTLIGHT

Eddie Bergh began his relationship with The Salvation Army while still a young child. His first donation was a few coins dropped in the offering plate during church service. His parents were Swedish missionaries and Salvation Army officers who served in Chicago at the Mont Clare Corps. The elder Mr. Bergh passed away while Eddie was stationed overseas during World War II. When he returned stateside he followed in his parents footsteps and also went to work for The Salvation Army at the Men's Social driving a donation truck.

Though life lead Eddie, his wife Delores, and their young family on a different path outside of The Army, he stayed in contact with his Salvationist friends and continued to attend special events with The Salvation Army until his death.

Eddie and Delores lived in the Chicago area for the remainder of their lives, but would make trips to visit their son Steve and daughter-in-law Beth, in Alaska. They were married for 67 years and still very much in love when Eddie passed away, finally being promoted to glory. When Delores passed two years later, the remainder of their savings was left to the family. The Bergh children felt it would be meaningful to give a portion of that amount to honor the Lord's work and thought The Salvation Army would be the most appropriate place to entrust that donation. Steve shared, "My mother and father would have been honored to help others."

The Salvation Older Alaskans Program, which provides meals daily to over 400 seniors who may otherwise go hungry, was able to purchase a vehicle with the donation made by Beth and Steve Bergh in honor of Steve's parents.

Steve added, "It is important to make sure people, especially the elderly, are not slipping through the cracks. The Older Alaskans Program helps do exactly that. It is encouraging to see The Salvation Army active in this area. Donating to this cause is a blessing."

IN RECOGNITION - MAJOR CORPORATE PARTNERS

The Salvation Army extends our sincere appreciation to the following corporations who have given a gift of $10,000 or more in support of our programs and services throughout Alaska. To become a corporate partner, please contact the Development Department at (907) 339-3461.

THE HOPE BRIGADE

The Salvation Army would like to sincerely thank members of The Hope Brigade, a national program which recognizes and honors individuals who leave a legacy gift to support The Salvation Army's programs and services in local communities.

WILLIAM BOOTH SOCIETY

William Booth began The Salvation Army with the purpose of serving those who were considered less fortunate by societal standards and truly in grave need. His life's work focused on alleviating their suffering through the outpouring of God's tangible love in the form of food, clothing, and shelter, while also imparting a renewed sense of spiritual hope.

Over 150 years later, his legacy of love, hope, and provision carries on through the hearts of our generous donors. We would like to thank the following donors who gave a gift in fiscal year 2021 of $5,000 or more, making them an honored member of the William Booth Society.

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

Each year, The Salvation Army Angel Tree program provides individuals and families the opportunity to buy Christmas gifts for a specific child who is in need. The Kuck family; Chad, Candi and their young son, Remington sponsored an Angel Tree tag every year. The Kucks involved Remington in helping to pick out the presents for the sponsored child, an experience of which he thoroughly enjoyed.

During a difficult time in their lives, Candi had to break the unfortunate news to Remington that they wouldn't be able to sponsor a child that year. Because Remington had grown so fond of participating with his mom and dad in the Angel Tree experience, he became very disheartened to hear this. Candi said, "He was determined to find a way to not only supply gifts for a child but for a whole family. Keep in mind he was the tender age of seven."

The following year, Remington kept his word and decided he would find a way to sponsor an entire family and figure out how to pay for all of the gifts himself. He and his mom contacted The Salvation Army again, as they also have an Adopt-A-Family program. He started with the idea of raising money by having a raffle with prizes. Then he experimented with an auction on Facebook. He began repurposing old items into new and unique art pieces and sold them to raise money. He made recycling and being green part of his practice. He made crafts, paintings, and wood workings and sold these at craft fairs.

After years of streamlining a system, Remington now, at the age of 12, handles most of the Adopt-A-Family duties for his family himself, with the occasional supervision from his parents. Now using the moniker 'Remington the Elf', he has created quite a following in his hometown of Fairbanks, AK, all the way down to the "lower 48" (states). As remarkable as Remington is for his generous spirit, desiring and determining at such a young age to help families in need, he doesn't like praise for it. He just wants to challenge others to do the same and find a way to give to others needing a helping hand. He is continuing in his work this year, making a special craft item which he will again sell at the craft fairs in Fairbanks. Typically, in years past, he has raised thousands of dollars and used all of it on toys, gifts, and gift cards for his selected family. Major Shevaun Malone of the The Salvation Army Fairbanks Corps calls him and his family, "a wonderful blessing!"

THANK YOU TO OUR FRONTLINE WORKERS

The Salvation Army's legacy of honoring our heroes began on the battlefields during WWI. We continue that tradition today by thanking those whose work on the frontlines of society helps to improve the lives of their fellow neighbors. As part of our National Donut Day tradition, we honor our partners in mission who work year round throughout Alaska to provide care and protection. The Salvation Army appreciates their continued dedication and partnership.

PROGRAMS AND CORPS THROUGHOUT ALASKA

Kenai Corps Officer, Captain Monica Kyle provides a family with clothes and back-to-school supplies.

Volunteers pack food boxes for distribution to families in need at the Anchorage GIFT program.

Captain Jeff Josephson, Corps Officer in Hoonah, Alaska, assists stranded USC students and staff with emergency shelter after Covid-19 outbreak closes local facilities.

A group of campers gather in a circle for games and entertainment during the summer at Kings Lake Camp in Wasilla.

Members of the US Armed Forces volunteer at McKinnell House Family Shelter for a landscaping safety project.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

CORPS COMMUNITY CENTERS

The Salvation Army Alaska provides locally based spiritual and social programs through 17 Corps and two extension units serving communities throughout the state. The mission of every Corps is to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ and meet human needs in His name without discrimination. Corps Community Centers offer a range of activities and resources. For services offered in your community, see local contact information listed on the back of this brochure or call (907) 276-2515.

MCKINNEL HOUSE AND EMERGENCY SHELTER SERVICES

Homeless families receive shelter, food, life skills coaching, care and support at McKinnell House; Alaska's only shelter serving two-parent families and single-parenting fathers with children. Each family works with a case manager to formulate a plan to help them successfully move into independent housing. (907) 276-1609 mckinnellhouse.salvationarmy.org

CLITHEROE CENTER

An Anchorage-based dual-diagnosis treatment program for men and women suffering from mental health issues and substance abuse. Provides professional and affordable treatment services to adults with addiction through inpatient and outpatient options. Provides rehabilitation services within the Alaska Department of Corrections. (907) 276-2898 clitheroe.salvationarmy.org

EMERGENCY DISASTER SERVICES

When disaster strikes, The Salvation Army Alaska is ready to respond, offering services that may include mass feeding, shelter, emotional and spiritual care, and donations management. Volunteers serve alongside Salvation Army personnel, offering comfort and hope to those in need. For more information, call (907) 276-2515.

FAMILY EMERGENCY SERVICES

Family Emergency Services provides homeless prevention services to families and individuals, including food boxes and other practical assistance. Hours are Tuesday through Friday, 1:30 - 4:30 PM. Hours may vary depending on resources available. (907) 375-3500

FAMILY THRIFT STORES

The Salvation Army has 13 Family Stores throughout the state. Anchorage-area purchases benefit the Alaska Division programs; others benefit programs in local communities. Locations include Anchorage, Fairbanks, Haines, Homer, Juneau, Kenai, Soldotna, Ketchikan, Kodiak, Wasilla, Petersburg and Sitka.

SERENDIPITY ADULT DAY SERVICES

Anchorage-based, Serendipity Adult Day Services provides social, spiritual, intellectual and physical activities as well meaningful engagement for individuals who may experience cognitive or physical impairments. Our goal is to provide participants a safe and enjoyable environment as well as predictable respite for primary caregivers. Tours available upon request. (907) 279-0501 serendipity.salvationarmy.org

OLDER ALASKANS PROGRAM

Participants receive daily nutritional home-delivered meals directly from the kitchen. The program promotes individuality and the ability for independent living for those with disabilities. (907) 349-0613

READY TO SUPPORT ALL

On December 2, 2020, a severe storm tore through the city of Haines, bringing with it flooding and a massive mudslide. In the wake of this destruction, two beloved members of the community perished and many more were forced to flee their homes and seek temporary shelter. In those first critical hours, The Salvation Army was able to provide residents that initial safe place, while coordination efforts for the disaster began.

Because of the generosity of partners like the Home Depot and individuals like you, we were able to provide food, water, and cleaning supplies in response to the need in Haines. The Salvation Army Corps pastors, Captains Kevin and Serina Woods have continued to help serve their community and are an integral part of the Haines Long Term Recovery Group established to continue the work of rebuilding Haines.

THANK YOU
FOR

YOUR HEART. YOUR COMMITMENT. YOUR GENEROSITY.

Serving Alaska and beyond.

The Salvation Army, an international movement, is an evangelical part of the universal Christian Church. Its message is based on the Bible. Its ministry is motivated by the love of God. Its mission is to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ and to meet human needs in His name without discrimination.
