

Winning Edge Masterclass

Case Study Story #5

My serve is a true weapon and I'm able to get free points at will. When I hit big serves, I get easy shots to attack with my forehand and backhand. I love playing first strike tennis dictating play against my opponents. I hold serve with ease. In deuce games or when I have to face a break points, I come up with clutch serves. Being able to hold serve consistently and break serve multiple times per set makes life easier. My 2nd serve is rock solid and I can hit with a lot of variation. I love hitting my targets on both first and 2nd serve and I get great pop on my serve. I love serving and it helps me win a lot of matches.
